$500 for Good Faith
The Real George
A New Salome
A Good Motor Fight

The effort to raise fourteen million dollars for starving women and children in Eastern Europe will be successful.

This fund is being raised by our Jewish fellow citizens, who have already given almost fifty millions for the same purpose, besides contributing most generously to all war funds, regardless of religion or nationality.

Gentiles, as well as Jews, should be glad to contribute. By way of making that suggestion real, this writer sends $500 to David A. Brown, chairman of the National Appeal, who, besides giving his money most generously, has given all of his time to the complete neglect, for months, of all his business.

Flying machines are distributing pictures of the royal English wedding over this country as rapidly as possible. We also have our little touch of snobbery.

The pictures show you King George bowing from the balcony of the palace, also Lloyd George standing on the sidewalk, watching the Princess enter her carriage. Study the strong jaw and powerful face of Lloyd George if you want to see the real English king. HE is the King of England, also Emperor of the British Empire.

The English people choose to keep a King that they may have something to look up to. But they know enough to govern themselves, and they pick a good man as their head man.

Revise your imaginary picture of Salome, with her seven veils, dancing sweetly for the head of John the Baptist.

According to Mr. Druce of Oxford, who gives proof to the Royal Archaeological Institute, Salome was not a dancer, but a tumbler, an acrobat.

She turned somersaults forward and backward, bent over backward until her head came out between her ankles, and ran around the floor in that position.

It seems reasonable. The savage that would cut off the head of a good man like John the Baptist would be sure to admire something worse than fine dancing.

It's good news, musically. Opera singers are too fat to do what Salome would now have to do. That may end the opera "Salome," which should never be sung, anyhow.

Mr. Durant announces a car to sell for $243 "to compete with Ford." That ought to be a good fight. It will have to be a good car. Ford does strange things when necessary in order to sell goods.

The announcement says that Durant is manufacturing the car for financiers that will distribute it. The question is, how much "finance" have they got?

A young New York chemist accidentally killed himself with ether. He was "trying to look into the hereafter." His theory was that if he could get his soul half way out of his body, without dying, the soul would come back to tell what it had seen. It went and never came back.

More than a hundred million years of life on this planet in various forms has been required to give the mind the body in which it now lives. With that body we can weigh this earth and the distant suns, connect oceans, irrigate deserts, drain swamps, explore the bottom of the ocean and the upper realms of the air. That is excitement enough for one short life without attempting prematurely to enter the "ether" lane.

The Zoological Garden of Buenos Aires will try to capture a plant-reptile, plesiosaurus, said to have been seen in some tropical lake. The hideous creature, with a long neck like a swan's, bat-like wings and a huge, heavy body, might be as big as an elephant, or bigger. It is supposed that in the heavy, tropical jungle, rarely visited by man, this kind may have survived through the ages. But it doesn't seem probable. Unfortunately, the creature could not be taken alive. Such a beast would destroy itself in frantic struggle and soon die, anyhow, removed from its surroundings.

Such creatures, marvelously restored, can be seen in great museums where, unfortunately, not 1 per cent. of the population take the trouble to study them.

Mr. Hughes has written a polite note beginning "Excellency," telling Europe that he can't attend the conference at Genoa.

Welcome is the statement that the government is "not unmindful" of the American people's determination, shown at the last election, to keep out of European politics.

Secretary Hughes might have added that this government has problems of its own—the soldiers' bonus, which the rich will not allow to be paid if they can help; the idleness of five million men and thousands of factories. Those problems require whatever intelligence and energy we have to spare.

CODMAN IN STATE HOUSE ROW

DESERTS RAILROAD HEARING

Declares Lines Have Dominated Legislative Committee for the Past 20 Years

Charging it is common talk that the Railroad Committee of the Legislature has been "owned" by the railroads for the last twenty years, former President Edmund Codman of the Fitchburg Railroad today put on his hat and coat and walked out of the committee hearing. He said it would be useless to talk to the committee in favor of his bill to prohibit the New Haven from again getting control of the Boston & Maine Railroad.

Perhaps never has a committee of the Legislature been flayed to its face as Codman flayed the Railroad Committee today.

He said he had no confidence in them, that they have swallowed year in and year out the wrong advice poured out to them by the railroad lobbyists. Codman said he could hardly feel they had been "bought," but they certainly were guilty of lack of independence.

"If that is the way you feel, you had better suspend," said Senator Walter A. Hardy of Fitchburg, chairman of the committee.

WALKS FROM ROOM.

"You mean to say I can't go on?" said Codman.

"Not if you feel that way," said Hardy.

"That's the way I feel,' said Codman and he walked out, on the table a copy of his printed remarks.

Conrad W. Crocker, representing the Boston & Maine minority stockholders, had earlier told the committee that former Representative Walter B. Cowls of Amherst had canvassed members of the Legislature and reported they regarded the anti-New Meriden, Ct., March 10.—Mrs. Reinholdt Kirshtren, wife of a factory worker, startled her husband and the neighborhood by the claim that the ghost of the first wife of her husband appeared and violently assaulted her.

The ghost appeared, according to Mrs. Kirshtren, while she was ironing, seized her by the throat and knocked the iron out of her hand.

Prior to that she said she had seen the "spirit visitor" two or three times a week.

After this "violent intrusion" of the Kirshtren home the husband sought aid and advice of Rev. S. Glaser of St. John's Lutheran Church. Rev. Mr. Glaser visited the home and since then the "ghost" hasn't appeared.

SURPRISE IN WARNER SUIT

Plaintiff Says Fuller Used Salesmen to Spread Slander During Campaign

Taunton, March 10.—Lieutenant Governor Alvan T. Fuller made use of automobile salesmen in his employ to spread slanderous charges against former Speaker of the House Joseph E. Warner, according to the opening statement by Attorney John L. Hall, counsel for Warner, when the latter's $100,000 slander suit against Fuller opened before Judge Nelson P. Brown in the Superior Court here today.

Hall told the jury he proposed showing deliberate malice on the part of the defendant and outlined other facts the plaintiff proposes to show. He denied the charge of misconduct in office made against his client by Fuller.

WARNER TO TESTIFY.

The attorney said Warner would call seven witnesses, among them Warner himself, Fuller, and Thomas C. Carens, political writer for a Boston morning paper; Edward Hicks, a veteran newspaper writer, and Gal Robinson, formerly auto salesman for Fuller.

Carens was the first witness. He said he had written of the charges made against Warner by the present Lieutenant Governor, which appeared in Carens' paper the morning of August 31, 1920.

It took just thirty minutes to pick the twelve men for the jury.

The suit, which bids fair to be one of the most sensational in the history of Massachusetts, is based upon utterances alleged to have been made by Lieutenant-Governor Fuller in the course of three addresses during his campaign against Warner for the office now held by Fuller.

QUOTES FROM CAMPAIGN.

The first of these addresses was made in New Bedford August 30, 1920, and the others in Taunton and Brockton, respectively, during September of that year.

Another count in Warner's complaint alleges that similar utterances were contained in a letter sent by Fuller to Richard Washburn.

Fuller is charged with having made accusations that Warner, when speaker of the House of Representatives, had made use of the influence of his office for his private benefit and for the benefit of a attorney of Taunton, one Harold F. Hathaway, in whose office Warner had been employed as a clerk.

Fuller's victory over Warner was a close one, and was immediately followed by the filing of the suit.

Fuller is represented at the trial by Charles H. Cummings, an attorney

FIGHT FOR 5C. FARE STILL ON

Mayor Curley to Continue His Efforts to Bring Cheaper Trolley Rate in City

Mayor Curley is not the least disturbed over a ruling of Attorney-General Allen in regard to the five-cent fare on the Elevated lines being unconstitutional.

He said today: "The fight will be kept up and a plan will be worked out this year for a five-cent carfare for the inhabitants of the city.

"The committee selected by the Mayor and headed by Sherman L. Whipple, appointed to formulate a program for the establishment of a five-cent fare in Boston, is experiencing no uneasiness by the report of the Attorney-General.

"Regardless of his opinion, a plan for a five-cent car fare will be worked out this year."

The committee in charge of the Mayor's program has had several meetings. Representative John McCormack of South Boston and Dorchester will file in the Legislature shortly a bill covering the five-cent fare proposition.

Among the legal lights the Mayor has had working for him are Sherman L. Whipple, E. Mark Sullivan, corporation counsel; Abraham C. Webber, former assistant district attorney; John A. Sullivan, former corporation counsel and chairman of the Finance Commission; Arthur D. Hill, former corporation counsel, and Joseph P. Lundy.

WOMEN IN PANIC AS CAR LEAPS FROM TRACK

Several women were bruised and others were slightly hurt in a crush for doors today when a crowded Charlestown surface car jumped the tracks while crossing the Warren Bridge, and crashed into an iron pillar.

Only the pillar prevented the car plunging twenty feet to the water below.

The impact with the pillar brought the car to such a sudden halt passengers were tossed in a heap in the aisle.

A panic, in which women fought for the doors, followed.

Discovery that the car was still firmly resting on the bridge restored order and after first aid treatment was given a score they resumed their journey to Boston in another car.

The car was traveling from Sullivan square to Adams square.

DECLARES VETERANS VICTIMS OF USURERS

Adjutant Spillane of American Legion Attacks Move to Raise Rate of Interest

Branding the loan-shark bill now before the Legislature as "a wicked outrage," State Adjutant Leo A. Spillane of the American Legion today declared that thousands of down-and-out war veterans, suffering for lack of work, have been made the victims of the usurious rates already charged by the money-lenders.

The bill would allow the money-lenders to raise their rates on small loans from 36 to 42 per cent. a year.

"Thousands of service men are down and out," said Adjutant Spillane. "In Boston alone 30,000 are walking the streets without a dime in their pockets and unable to obtain work.

"Thousands of them have already fallen into the clutches of the money-lenders. They are now paying interest rates that are high enough, if not too high. To increase the rates at this time would be to enmesh them more solidly in the grip of the money-lenders."

PLAN CREDIT UNIONS.

In the hope of saving the former service men from the grip of the loan sharks, the legion is at work on a plan to establish a credit union in every legion post in the State.

The legion hopes not only to promote thrift among its members by this plan, but at the same time to save them from the high rates now being charged for the small sums they borrow to provide themselves with clothes, food and the other necessaries of life.

The loan-shark bill is now before the Committee on Legal Affairs, the same committee which reported the bill favorably two years ago. The bill then went through the House without a murmur and was cut to its way through the Senate when it was exposed by the Boston American.

Governor's Councillor William J. Foley, then a member of the Senate, began such a terrific attack upon the bill that it was finally returned to the House, where it was killed.

A hearing was held on the bill this week by the Committee on Legal Affairs. Walter S. Hilborn of the Russell Sage Foundation and Judge A. K. Cohen, representing the Massachusetts Industrial Leaders' Association, said the lenders were not receiving a proper return on their investments and that on many of the loans of less than $100 they were losing money.

President Frederick E. Cox of the Massachusetts Credit Union League declared that the rates are sufficiently high and that the trend of the money market should be down, rather than upward.

Former Senator John Jackson Walsh said that he had failed to notice any money lenders being driven into the bankruptcy courts or any diminution in the number.

Mayor Curley sent H. Murray Pikul-ski to inform the committee that the city of Boston, in the interest of its 18,000 employes, is unalterably opposed to any increase in the rates. Fred C. Kilpatrick of Boston and James M. Foran of Norwood, the latter representing the Morris Plan, were among others who urged the committee to reject the scheme.

Firemen and police discovered, as in the previous fires, kerosene-soaked rags had been stuffed through the cracks of an outside door.

Columbia, S. C., March 10.—James M. "In no period of American history," Cox said, "has there been a public official who has been such an evil influence as has Henry Cabot Lodge."

Referring to Ambassador Harvey, Cox declared that "before he has heard the last of his statement that the United States went into the war to save its own hide, he may have difficulty

STRIKERS JEER CROMPTON MILL GUARDS

Fifth Attempt Is Made to Re-open R. I. Plant; Cavalry Scatters Crowd

Providence, March 10.—An attempt to reopen the Crompton Company mills in Crompton today resulted in a brief demonstration in front of the mill gates by about 1,000 strikers and sympathizers. When the whistles blew the crowd gathered and jeered the police on guard around the plant.

A few employes entered the mills under police guard, but the majority came out again after a few minutes and rejoined the strikers.

A squad of cavalrymen, hurried to the scene, dispersed the crowd without trouble or disorder. This was the fifth time the company has tried to reopen the mills since the textile strike began.

Would Give R. I. Board Power for Decisions

By Associated Press.

Providence, March 10.—The State Board of Mediation and Conciliation will meet Monday to consider a proposal to ask the Legislature to amend the statute under which the board functions, so that the body may have mandatory powers to conduct investigations and enforce its decisions. Announcement to this effect was made today by Commissioner of Labor George H. Webb.

Commissioner Webb in a statement made public today declared the effect of the strike was being felt in a financial way by business interests all over Rhode Island.

Wages lost to textile strikers he estimated at nearly $2,000,000 since the strike began. For the purposes of this estimate, he explained, he took the number of strikers at 15,000 and the average weekly wage as $17.45. Both these figures he added, tend to be extremely conservative.

Governor San Souci in a statement today declared textile manufacturers protesting against mass picketing at plants affected by the strike may seek their remedy in the courts, not in the executive.

The Glenlyon Yarn Dye Works of the Sayles finishing plants at East Providence, employing about 100, did not open this morning.

This is the first additional plant to be closed for the strikers in two weeks. Mass picketing has been carried on at that plant and the Glenlyon Print Works, another Sayles mill, for several days. At the print works it was stated that 85 out of 550 employes have quit work.

The Judiciary Committee of the State Senate announced today it would hold a public hearing next Wednesday on forty-eight-hour bills now pending. A week later a public hearing will be held on a bill to prohibit night work by women and children.

Pawtucket Man Is Jailed for Threats.

Pawtucket, R. I., March 10.—For attempting by threats and intimidation to prevent Claudier Leixoina from pursuing his employment at the Jenckes Spinning Company's plant where a strike is in progress, Manuel Lopes, after pleading guilty in the District Court today, was sentenced to sixty days in jail.

In response to the question, "Are you willing to go to jail to maintain the right to picket," several hundred persons gave an affirmative vote at a meeting of strikers today.

John H. Powers, member of the executive council of the United Textile Workers of America, had asked the question when criticising a proposal to ask the Supreme Court to give a ruling on mass picketing.

KILEY CALLED BY GRAND JURY IN FRAUD CHARGE

Attorney Explains Reference Was Not to Present Suffolk County Panel

Attorney Daniel J. Kiley was summoned before the Suffolk County Grand Jury today to explain statements made by him at the State House yesterday when, before the Legislative Committee on Judiciary, he charged existence of a "Suffolk Grand Jury Guild," organized for illegal control of action of grand juries "by a ring of criminal lawyers."

His summonsing today was a sensation.

An officer served the summons upon him at his office.

He went directly to the rooms of the grand jury now in session and was closeted there for twenty-five minutes.

KILEY'S EXPLANATION.

Interviewed when he left the jury rooms, Mr. Kiley said:

"I told members of the grand jury I had nothing to apologize for with reference to my charges made at the State House yesterday, but that I did not have in mind or refer to the present grand jury, whose term began on the first Monday of January."

Attorney Kiley in making his sensational charges yesterday said:

"Prospective grand jurors are canvassed in exactly the same manner that delegates to a political convention are canvassed, in order to ascertain their views before a vote is taken.

"Certain Boston lawyers have specialized in grand jury cases and have become so bold as to guarantee immunity from indictment for their clients. The district attorneys very often influence grand juries improperly."

STATEMENT ON JURORS.

A statement signed by Martin J. Ryan, foreman of the grand jury now in session, and Lawrence T. Brior, clerk, addressed to and made public by District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien contained the following account of Attorney Kiley's appearance in the jury room:

"Mr. Kiley upon examination under oath before the grand jury stated that the newspaper accounts of his statements before the legislative committee were 'garbled' that the omitted statements which he made before the committee, showing that he referred in no way to the grand jury now sitting; that he had no evidence of attempts being made by lawyers or others to approach the present grand jury for the purpose of exercising improper influence; that he had no evidence to submit, but had heard rumors of attempts being made to approach other grand juries; that his statements before the legislative committee were matters of personal opinion based upon suspicion and hearsay."

RAILROADS OWN COMMITTEES, SAYS CODMAN

Haven bill as "rubbish" and they would "throw it out the window."

Hardy refused to allow Crooker to continue until Crooker stated that Cowis had not said he had talked with any present member of the Committee on Railroads.

The hearing was held on Mr. Codman's petition for a resolution by the Legislature calling upon U. S. Attorney-General Daugherty to abandon any plans he may have to dissolve the court decree which found the New Haven ownership of the Boston & Maine to be a combination in restraint of trade and a vicious agreement which had despoiled the value of Boston & Maine stock to the extent of $100 a share.

BLAMES WALL STREET.

Crooker said the dissolution of the decree would throw the 216,000 shares of Boston & Maine stock now held by the Federal trustees back into the hands of the New Haven officials, who would restore New Haven control of the Boston & Maine and would prevent forever any chance which New England has of regaining control of its two biggest systems.

Mr. Codman asserted that the New York Central and the Pennsylvania Railroads and Wall Street dominate the New Haven. "During all these years of disaster, they have been sufficient to control the policies and appoint the managing officers of the New Haven," he said. "To that influence the whole of the disasters of the eNw England railroads can be attributed."

Urging the committee to stand up on its own feet, Mr. Codman said:

"The average citizen, like me, is unwilling to come before you. He distrusts you. I do. The General Court will continually lose standing until you show signs of strength and independence."

sen, Clarence D., who appeared as a witness for his mother.

Young Horrigan, who is also married, was arrested immediately after testifying on a charge of evading the draft. It is alleged he failed to register on June 5, 1917.

That the elder Horrigan had a habit of hiding behind desks, chairs, pianos and portieres and "booing" at his wife were other interesting sidelights developed at the previous hearing in the case.

Mrs. Horrigan, who proved the star witness in the prosecution of her suit, testified that, among other things, her husband used to get up at 3 in the morning, rattle her bedroom door and peek through the keyhole. She said he did this to terrify her.

Mrs. Horrigan is now receiving $25 a week from her husband, who admits he is worth about $200,000. She seeks to have this weekly allowance substantially increased.

MARKED BILL USED IN MAKING DRUG ARRESTS

A marked bill used by Federal narcotic agents landed Nat Mondelo of London street, East Boston, before United States Commissioner Hayes today charged with possessing and selling drugs. Frederick C. Wilson, address unknown, was also arraigned, charged with purchasing and possessing drugs. Both cases were continued a week. Narcotic agents said they met Wilson on the street, gave him a marked bill and asked him to make a purchase from Mondelo.

DE VALERA TO OPEN FIGHT IN BOSTON

Two Delegates to Tour United States Against Irish Free State Plan

A campaign against the Irish Free State will be opened by the Irish Republican party under the direction of Eamon de Valera in the United States at Boston on Sunday, March 12.

Austin Stack, former Minister of Defence, and James J. O'Kelley, former Speaker of Dail Eireann, will then inaugurate the campaign by addresses before the State convention of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic.

The two De Valeraites leave Ireland on the steamship Aquitania tomorrow and will arrive in New York on March 17. A reception is planned for them in that city where they will be greeted by a committee from Massachusetts which will escort them to Boston.

After speaking at the convention in the morning Stack and O'Kelley are to address a public meeting at night in the Boston Opera House, according to State President John F. Hurrigan. Other visitors are than scheduled to speak at meetings in Worcester, Springfield, Lawrence, Lowell and Fall River. They are due to leave here for New York March 26 on a tour of the country under the auspices of the A. A. R. I. R. in their attempt to arouse sentiment in favor of the republican policies.

The opening of the campaign here was arranged by invitation of the State Directorate, which was acknowledged by De Valera.

National headquarters of the A. A. R. I. R. was notified of the coming of two delegates by De Valera in a cablegram as follows:

"In order to induce our people to despair of a republic, pro-treaty and British propagandists pretend that American friends favor disestablishment. I am sure no American caring for Ireland could desire that Irish people abandon independence and accept partition and subjection within British Empire. Republican delegation, Stack and O'Kelley, sailing Aquitania Saturday."

De Valera Not to Reply to Griffith at Present

Dublin, March 10 (By the Associated Press).—Eamon De Valera declared today he would issue no statement in answer to Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann, on the Limerick rebellion until such time as the controversy would not embarrass the difficult situation.

Mr. Griffith's statement declared the situation in Limerick was "largely the outcome of incitement to indiscipline indulged in or connived at by some of Eamon De Valera's supporters." He added: "If Mr. De Valera will even now condemn the mutiny in the army, the danger of the situation in Limerick will be considerably lessened."

'I MUST PAY,' SAYS LYNN WIFE WHO BARED SHAME TO REGAIN CHILD

GUILTY FOR FIFTEEN MONTHS

By HAROLD R. HALL.

"I am baring my soul to the world because I want to keep my child.

"My reputation cannot be blackened any more than it is—so I shall tell my story and keep my daughter as a result."

This speaker was Mrs. Florence Johnson of No. 194 Newhall street, Lynn, whose husband, R. Chester Johnson, has brought suit for $25,000 against Harry I. Lyons, wealthy shoe manufacturer of Lynn and Chelsea, in which he charges Lyons with alienation of his wife's affections.

HAD WINNING WAY.

"It was some time about April, 1920, that I met the other man," said Mrs. Johnson. "I was buying a pair of shoes from a friend at the time. The other man came in the store, and my friend introduced him to me.

"He seemed to be attracted to me from the start. He soon showed that he was a fast worker. He had an auto, money and a wonderfully winning way. There was something about him that I could not resist. He fascinated me. He won me completely. He tempted me and I fell.

"Was I guilty? God, yes. I was horribly guilty. For fifteen months I was guilty. He and I went out together one night each week during that entire fifteen months. Usually Saturday night. If we could not go on Saturday we went on Tuesday.

"My husband," continued Mrs. Johnson, "was then a special officer employed at a theatre here in Lynn. He worked nights. I was alone and lonely. I had no car. I could afford but cheap amusements. So one why the other man with his car, his money, his dinners, theatres and his fascinating way, won me over. It was easy for him.

"MUST PAY."

"Put yourself in my place. If you were a lonely woman and a man came along with the inducements he offered, what would you do? I am not trying to excuse myself, though. I should not have fallen. But the fact remains, I fell.

"Now I must pay. The woman always has to pay in these cases, it seems to me. The man has a short bit of unpleasant publicity, but with the woman the disgrace lasts a lifetime. She cannot get away from it.

"And that is what it is with me. But as long as I danced I am willing to pay for the music.

"It had to come out after a while. My husband became suspicious. He accused me. At last he got the evidence on us, and it was all off.

"He wanted to kill the other man, but I pleaded with him not to bring any further stain on our little daughter. Then he took the girl and left me. I was frantic. I love my child just as any woman loves her baby. She is mine. I wanted her. I was bound to have her. I would stop at nothing to get her.

CONFESSED ALL.

"My husband started divorce proceedings. Then I confessed all to him. I told him everything that had taken place between us. But he promised me if I told him all he would stop the divorce proceedings and give me back the child. So I told him and like the honorable man he is he gave me back my daughter.

"She is with me now. I shall keep her. I would go through anything rather than lose her. Her father is paying for her support, but not for mine. I do not care about myself as long as my child is cared for. I can work. I worked before I was married and I can do it again.

"Now I am told that the man denies that he knows me—that he ever saw me. He lies if he says that. Why, when he wanted a room for us to go to at night on our stealthy trips he would get me to hire it and then he would come up to the room and I would let him in.

"In this way he thought he would be saved from any unpleasantness if we were found out. He would pass the money to me and I would pay the bill. That was our usual custom.

CAME TO HER HOME.

"Sometimes he came here to my home. While my husband was at work at the theatre he would come here to the home furnished by my husband. What did he care for another man? And I was fool enough to allow it, to lower myself.

"Then he promised me that he would provide for me if I was ever found out and got into trouble. But when my trouble came and my husband left me and took my child what did he do? Did he help me? No! Now I am paying."

The Johnsons have been married for fourteen years. They moved to Lynn from New York about five years ago. For some time the husband was employed by the U. S. Government. Then he became a special officer at a Lynn theatre. Now he is in the insurance business. He has not been seen by his friends for some weeks.

Lyons, the man accused by Johnson, is a wealthy shoe manufacturer. He makes his home at The Breakers, Lynn, and has big shoe interests in Lynn, Peabody and Chelsea. He is one of the best known of the New England shoe manufacturers. He declares that the case of Johnson is a frameup and denies that he knows Mrs. Johnson.

CHARGE BRIBERY IN 2 LIQUOR CASES

Lynnfield and Boston Men Accused of Attempting to Influence Agents

Two cases of alleged attempts to bribe prohibition officers were before United States Commissioner Hayes in Federal Court today.

The defendants were John Repetto, of Lowell street, Lynnfield, and Abraham Elkman, owner of a small variety store in Bradford street, South End.

Both men pleaded not guilty and were held under $1,000 bonds each for trial on March 21.

Repetto is alleged to have attempted to bribe Federal Agent Walter V. Goodridge at Lynnfield on March 2. Agent Goodridge alleges Repetto offered him $50 to use his influence in gaining a favorable decision in a liquor case now pending against the defendant.

The officer claims that Repetto first approached him in Reading on February 23. He said he then made an appointment to "see" Repetto later in Lynnfield. On March 2 he said he went to Lynnfield with other agents and called on Repetto.

Before entering Repetto's house he says he was searched by his fellow agents. When he came out he claims he had $50 which was given him as a bribe by the defendant.

The complaint against Ellsman was made by Agent Edgar Davis.

Davis claims he went into Ellsman's store yesterday and bought a pint of liquor. Then he informed Ellsman that he was a prohibition officer. Thereupon he says Ellsman offered him $100 to drop the case.

Later, while taking Ellsman to the station, he claims Ellsman offered him $150 to let him go. Davis says he took the money and held it as evidence of the alleged attempt at bribery.

WOMAN FOUND GUILTY ON A LIQUOR CHARGE

DISCLOSURES EXPECTED IN HEWITT SUIT

Nurse Who Attended Inventor in Paris Charges Persecution by Widow

New York, March 10 (By International News Service).—Relatives here of the late Peter Cooper Hewitt, millionaire inventor, were astounded today over dispatches from Paris pretending sensational revelations arising out of his sudden death in the American Hospital at Neuilly last August, when he was thought to be recovering from illness.

The fact that Mr. Hewitt was believed to be cognizant of the secret of his death is expected to prove the "high light" in a suit brought against the inventor's young widow by Miss Elizabeth C. Kelley, a trained nurse of New York and Montreal, for damages. The suit was filed in Paris, where Mrs. Hewitt is now living.

The nurse alleges that Mrs. Hewitt and Baron Robert Ellinger of England tried to drive her out of France after litigation had been instituted against her by the Baron. She was charged with stealing jewelry from Mrs. Hewitt, but the charges were dismissed.

Miss Kelly claims that sisters of the late inventor will testify in her behalf.

Mrs. Hewitt before her marriage was Mrs. Marion Andrews Bruniere, daughter of T. T. Andrews, Virginia millionaire hair tonic manufacturer, twice before she married Mr. Hewitt in Paterson, N. J., in 1915.

The inventor left an estate of more than $3,000,000.

Arraigned in police court Howley was held in $500 for a hearing on Wednesday.

Gargan appealed and was held in $1,200 for the Grand Jury.

SUGGESTS GOVERNMENT KEEP MUSCLE SHOALS

Washington, March 10.—Chairman Norris of the Senate Agriculture Committee announced in the Senate today that he was preparing for submission to his committee a bill creating a government-owned corporation empowered to develop and operate the Muscle Shoals nitrate and waterpower project.

BIG MONEY BACK OF FLOATING BOOZE SHIP

Five Well-Known Financiers to Incorporate in Foreign Land as Vessel Operators

By Associated Press.

New York, March 10.—Reports of the forthcoming establishment of a "floating booze palace," to be anchored outside the three-mile limit by July 1, and the opening of a special ferry service between it and New York were confirmed by Captain James V. Martin, its sponsor.

Captain Martin said that five well-known financiers, three in New York and two elsewhere in the United States, had agreed to invest their money for purchase of the vessel. He refused to name the financiers.

They would incorporate in a foreign country under the name of "Vessel Operators," he added.

He declared tickets for the floating bar would be sold before the opening and that he expected to deposit the money in a local bank. Many business men, he said, already had bought their tickets, amounting to several hundred thousand dollars' worth.

He said a man to direct the ferry service on the palace had been selected and that he had been assured that the project was within the law.

Ralph A. Day, prohibition enforcement director for New York, went to Washington today to confer with Prohibition Commissioner Haynes in regard to preventing establishment of the "booze vessel."

FIND DOCTOR IN DAZE AS CASE IS CALLED

Held in Death of Widow, Physician Is Ordered Defaulted

Dr. William J. Brown of Cambridge and formerly of the Back Bay, indicted by the Middlesex grand jury for alleged illegal surgery in connection with the death of Mrs. Margaret Savickas, thirty-year-old widow of Spencer, was found wandering about the Cambridge court house today, dazed and unable to explain why he had failed to appear when his case was called.

He was turned over to the police for arraignment later. He said he had been trying to find the court room in which his case was to come up.

Hurley ordered he was discovered his case had come up and in his absence a default warrant had been issued which returned over to Inspector Patrick J. Hurley of Cambridge police headquarters, who has been gathering evidence in the case.

Hurley said he had been trying to locate Brown for several days.

Following his arrest a week ago, Dr. Brown was held in $10,000 bail for appearance today. The continuance was asked pending Grand Jury action. The Grand Jury returned the indictment yesterday.

Mrs. Savickas died three weeks ago in the Worcester City Hospital, where she had been taken after having been found seriously ill at her home.

A. L. THORNDIKE DEAD; EX-BANK COMMISSIONER

Passes Away Suddenly at His Apartments in Back Bay Hotel

Augustus L. Thorndike, for several years bank commissioner of Massachusetts, died suddenly today in his apartments at the Hotel Agassiz on Commonwealth avenue from an attack of heart failure.

He was sixty years old and is survived by a widow and a married daughter, Mrs. Clifford Eddy of West Newton.

Retiring from the bank commissioner's office a few years ago, when he was succeeded by the present incumbent, Joseph C. Allen, Mr. Thorndike had been in poor health, although his condition was not known to be such as to give cause for any alarm.

He seemed to be feeling badly today, and informed Mrs. Thorndike about 2 p. m. that he would not get up for breakfast.

Fifteen minutes later when she entered his bedroom she found him dead in his bed.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday, from the late residence. Burial will be Monday at Brewster, Mass. Mr. Thorndike had a Summer home.

Since his retirement from the office of bank commissioner, he had devoted himself to the management of the Thorndike estate, which included the Hotel Thorndike and other large properties in Boston and the suburbs.

He became bank commissioner in 1912.

Mixed Juries Favored by Prominent Women

SHOULD WOMEN SERVE ON MIXED JURIES?

YES

Governor Channing H. Cox.
Mrs. Winona Osborne Pinkham, League of Women Voters.
Miss Margaret Foley, deputy commissioner of institutions.
Mrs. True Worthy White, League of Women Voters.
Mrs. Susan W. FitzGerald.
James A. Watson, City Council.

NO

Benjamin Loring Young, Speaker of the House.
Everett Morss, president of the Chamber of Commerce.
Mark E. Sullivan, city corporation counsel.
Frank Palmer Speare, president Northeastern College.

The experience of seven women on a hung jury in St. Paul, Minn., when they spent two nights in one room, containing beds, partially disrobed in the presence of five men jurors and tried to sleep, has confronted Boston men and women with an interesting question.

Shall there be mixed juries in Massachusetts?

Answers have come from prominent men and women interested in the question.

Every man interviewed, with the exception of Governor Channing Cox and Councillor James A. Watson says vehemently "No!"

Curiously enough every woman says "Yes."

WOMEN GET NO SLEEP.

In Trenton, N. J., a similar experience was suffered by six women jurors for one night.

They did not sleep, however. Every time they attempted to, the men, ungallantly impatient to get home to their wives, woke them up and demanded the casting of another ballot.

The women liked their experience. "They were treated with every consideration," they said.

They had tried to sleep on tables.

In St. Paul the aftermath of the two nights' confinement was startling. Irate husbands denounced the law that forced their wives to be closeted in a jail apartment containing beds.

THOUGHT IT FUNNY.

Curiously enough the women smiled over the experience.

"It was funny," said Mrs. Josephine Brown, "when bed-time came. The men withdrew to a corner where they sat facing the wall. We took the bedclothes off the beds and tried to make a screen of them. We failed, but crawled into bed anyway."

The women refused to amuse Minnesota's governor, J. O. O. Preuse, how ever.

"Never would I allow Mrs. Preuse to go through such an experience," he said.

Here is what prominent Bay State men and women think of mixed juries:

GOVERNOR CHANNING H. COX: —"We are going to have women serving on juries. That is one of the natural developments of granting equal suffrage, and whether we like it or not, we must be prepared for it. From my service with public officials and with men in'gen eral, my feeling is that women are the least to see women confined in a room considering and debating matters with men."

MRS. WINONA O. PINKHAM:—"Women should serve on juries. They are equal to men and should have all the privileges enjoyed by men. I believe that women are quite as capable of discussing delicate subjects as men, and I am certain that women are as broad minded as men on subjects. They are able to discuss any kind of sentiment. If men can discuss it, then women can.

"The conditions under which that mixed jury sat in St. Paul were very bad. Of course, that is no way to do. The men should be segregated from the women at night. There should be partitions or separate rooms and there should be court officers, matrons for the women jurors. The women might be housed at night in a hotel, at least apart from the men. The St. Paul case was an outrage and women ought to stop Jim Full man cars. Why not have a similar arrangement in jury rooms?"

MISS MARGARET FOLEY:—"Certainly women should serve on juries. They can stand the strain as well as men. Of course, they should be given proper conditions; that is, as to sanitation and comfort. Of course, if women become exhausted, they should have a place to rest. Let us have equality in Massachusetts to the fullest extent. Decent-minded men and women can discuss any question together without becoming embarrassed. If they cannot do this they should not be given jury service."

MRS. TRUE WORTHY WHITE:—"Women should serve on the juries with men. It is just as much they duty as men. Women have an equal share in the responsibility of government and should be given the rules to share responsibilities of dispensing justice. Especially in trials where sexual crimes are been committed the women should be on the jury with the men. It goes without saying that sleeping quarters should be provided for the women, and the men, too, so that there will be no suggestion such as that at St. Paul. It reflects on the officials in charge if that is not done."

MRS. SUSAN W. FITZGERALD:—"Certainly I believe in mixed juries. Of course, there is a difference between serving with men and serving on a mixed jury. Of course, the courts should make provision for sleeping accommodations. I do not think that the same conditions that existed in St. Paul. However, many women spend the night in hotels where there are strange men, the same may be said of sleeping cars, so it seems to me provision can be made so they not be on the juries with men?"

COUNCILLOR JAMES A. WATSON:—"Women have suffrage, and they should assume all the liabilities such privilege bestows. They must take the bad with the good. My opinion is that the cause of the men and women being humiliated and degraded at St. Paul can be laid at the door of the authorities.

"They should provide proper sleeping accommodations for the women apart from the men. One partition in the jury room would have saved those seven women all the embarrassment.

"I noticed the husbands of the seven women protested vehemently, but I would like to know whether the wives of the men had registered a protest. There cannot be two standards of morality."

SPEAKER B. LORING YOUNG: —"I would not like to see my wife serve on a jury under the same conditions that jury served in St. Paul. I believe that eventually women will serve on juries, but I would not want to vote on the question today for want of more information on the subject.

"There are several bills before the Legislature on the matter, but before they are enacted into law I would favor an investigation of conditions in Massachusetts. Courthouses should be examined to see wha, accommodations are available for women jurors, vide such accommodations. I would vide such accommodations. I would favor such an investigation by a legislative committee to report at the next session of the General Court."

NO PLACE FOR A WOMAN.

EVERETT MORSS:—"I am emphatically opposed to mixed juries. I have served on a jury and it is no place for a woman. In the first place I don't believe women should be subjected to the strain of a long jury session. They could not stand it. Besides there are delicate subjects which juries must consider and I do not believe strange men and women getting together would talk freely enough to arrive at a proper verdict. They would be embarrassed. The jury should consist of all men or all women and there should be separate quarters for both day and night."

E. MARK SULLIVAN:—"my wife would never serve on a mixed jury under the conditions that St. Paul jury served in. I could help it. I am opposed to mixed juries where all are kept together night and day with no partition between the men and women during the time they sleep. Our court houses should be arranged so that women could be properly taken care of as well as men. As for the simple matter of granting equal women should serve on juries I think there is in no grounds for discrimination."

FRANK P. SPEARE: — "Women have no place on juries. Justice cannot be obtained when men and women, who have never saw each other before, get together to discuss some delicate testimony. It is all well and good to say women are as broadminded as men, but both would be embarrassed and justice thwarted, if they were forced to discuss such subjects. Women simply will not talk under those conditions."

SUITS AGAINST ALLEN ARE DISMISSED

Prudential Depositors Sought to Recover Money Put Into Closed Bank

The full bench of the Supreme Court today dismissed bills brought by several plaintiffs against Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen to recover amounts of deposits made by them in the closed Prudential Trust Company.

The plaintiffs were Winifred Steele, Simon Rosen and Myer and Samuel Furniture, who charged that when their moneys were received the bank was insolvent.

In his opinion, Chief Justice Rugg states:

"It appears that the trust company, while not complying with the regulations of the statutes as to reserve and which not keeping assets in the savings department separate and distinct from its general assets, was yet continuing to meet its obligations when they arose.

"The exact status of its affairs, or the precise extent of its insolvency, is not disclosed on the record. It has been apparently in a somewhat shaky condition for several years and has yet been able to meet its business.

"There is nothing to indicate that when the Bank Commissioner took possession that any such action was anticipated by the officers, or that they had any reason to expect that the institution might not continue for the next three or four years, as it had during the past like period.

"Its deposits had been previously at a lower ebb than when closed by the commissioner and had recovered.

"The suit, in effect, are claims against all the other creditors. The record discloses no equity in favor of those depositors against other depositors during this period of insolvency.

"In substance and effect the present plaintiffs are seeking preference over the creditors which is not clearly established. A rateable distribution appears to be more likely to work out as it ought."

BOUGHT MACHINE WITH CHANGED NUMBERS

Malden Auto Dealer Testifies He Made Perry Refund Money for Sale

Testimony that George T. Perry, Somerville attorney on trial in East Cambridge Court as alleged leader of a gang of accused automobile thieves, had sold him a car the numbers of which had been changed was given today by Walter H. Pembroke, a Malden automobile dealer.

Pembroke said he bought the machine from Perry for $550. He said it was delivered to his garage by Harlis E. Rice of Wilmington, one of three defendants in the case who pleaded guilty and turned State's evidence.

When the car was delivered Pembroke said the mudguards were damaged. He complained to Rice, who, he testified, informed him the damage had probably been done while the number on the car were being changed.

"When I found the numbers had been tampered with," said Pembroke, "I told Perry and told him I didn't want the car. I told him I didn't want to buy cars like that. Perry then gave me back my money."

The check involved in this transaction was introduced as evidence.

Two other alleged members of the gang, John M. Barry of Winthrop and Daniel Cutsumore of Melrose Highlands, are on trial with Perry.

Testimony by Pembroke that he had turned a number of checks for purchased automobiles over to former District Attorney William J. Corcoran while the latter was investigating auto ring thefts was ruled out. Pembroke said he had not employed Corcoran as an attorney in collecting any money for him in connection with his automobile dealings.

Jeremiah Surrette, one of the three defendants who pleaded guilty in the case, was recalled to the stand and testified to stealing a machine in company with a number of confederate whom he knew only as "Joe."

He said that with "Joe" he went to Winchester one night and stole a car belonging to Thomas M. Howard. He said they called up the garage where Howard kept the car and "Joe" posed as Howard in speaking over the telephone.

"Joe" requested the garage people to send Howard's machine to a certain address in a lonely part of the town. When the machine appeared "Joe" and Surrette took possession of it on a pretext and drove it to Malden.

The next day, Surrette testified, he received a check for Howard and received $150 for his share of the job.

Knott, Jamaica Plain, loan, $4,000. Harold M. Buckman, Gordon street, Somerville, also has filed a voluntary petition. Liabilities, $2,436; no assets.

O'BRIEN SEEKS FOUR ADDITIONAL AIDES

District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien, making his first appearance before the Legislature, today urged the Ways and Means Committee to report favorably the bill which will allow him to appoint four additional assistant District Attorneys for a year. He said 9,000 cases remain to be disposed of, and the office is "overwhelmed" by work. Much of the increase was due to the falling off in work during the trial of the Pelletier removal case, he said.

REFUSE TO INCREASE ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S PAY

The bill to increase the salary of Attorney-General Allen from $8,000 to $10,000 a year was today killed in a vote by the legislative Committee on Public Service. The increase had been urged by former Attorney-General Herbert Parker and other lawyers. Allen is now receiving $7,000 a year.

PLOT TO SMUGGLE IN CIGRETTES DISCOVERED

SUES TRIO FOR $50,000, CHARGING ALIENATION

George Lochiatto of Boston today entered a suit for $50,000 against Joseph, Edward and Father Giovan of No. 101 Harlehof street, Roxbury, alleging they have alienated the affections of his wife, Naomi. 30,000,000 IN RUSSIA HIT BY FAMINE, REPORT

Warsaw, March 10 (By the Associated Press). — Delegates from Moscow, arriving in Warsaw today to participate in the hygiene conference called by the League of Nations, reported the famine-stricken population of Russia now numbered 20,000,000. They reported that Turkestan was in the path of threatened desolation and that the District of Odessa was among the desolated parts of Russia.

U. S. AGENT INVESTIGATES WEST MUNHAM CRASH

Hamburg, March 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—It is feared the American steamer West Munham, ashore off Heligoland, will prove a total loss. Efforts of ten tugs to free her have been unavailing. Barges are attempting to salvage part of her cargo. The West Munham, carrying grain for Russian relief, went aground in a heavy fog. Nearby foghorns, it was alleged, had not been working for several days. The chief inspector here of the American Shipping Board is making an investigation.

BOSTON SUED BY 6 BANKS TO GET $750,000 TAXES

Amounts, Alleged to Have Been Unlawfully Assessed, Paid Under Protest

Six suits were filed in the Suffolk County Superior Court against the city of Boston today by six local banks, to recover approximately $750,000 taxes alleged to have been unlawfully assessed.

The largest individual suit is for $415,157, paid under protest by the Shawmut National Bank.

Other suits are by the National Union Bank, for $48,165; Boston National Bank, for $3,823; Boylston National Bank, for $22,477; Fourth Atlantic Bank, for $114,537, and the Second National, for $146,290.

The plaintiffs in these suits claim the city assessed a tax of $24.70 per $1,000 on the market value of the stock of each bank, and that this tax was paid under protest.

It is further claimed for the banks that the tax is more than that imposed on other monied capital under the State income tax law.

This, say the papers in the suits, constitutes a violation of the United States Constitution, which forbids taxing stock in national banks at a rate higher than that imposed upon other monied capital.

SPARE THE RINSING AND SPOIL THE CLOTHES

No matter how carefully you have washed your clothes, if you have not rinsed every bit of soap out, they will still be yellow. Use a soap that dissolves completely and there is less danger of particles sticking to the clothes to yellow them.

Rinso is an entirely new kind of soap that dissolves instantly, making both water and clothes slippery with its pure, rich suds. It soaks all the dirt out of the clothes so that no hard rubbing is needed to get them spotlessly clean.

Rinso is easier to rinse out than a soap with solid particles to stick to the fabric. But because the rich Rinso suds loosen every bit of dirt, very thorough rinsing is necessary to carry off the dirt.

Rinso is rapidly replacing bar soap for the family wash.

Fresh From Paris

Latest Word From Marie Suzanne

Paris, France

THE Paris openings indicate that the chemise frock is still in favor, especially when accompanied by the round neckline and only medfumly low girdle. The model sketched at the left is of beige crepe de chine, which is one of the leading colors for Spring, trimmed with rows of rust-colored cire braid and tiny buttons of the crepe. The bell sleeves are of beige chiffon.

PAUL POIRET designs an afternoon frock of midnight blue Poiret twill and features points of the material piped in bright red crepe. The skirt is attached below by rows of gathering that give it considerable fulness. The tight bodice, suggesting the Moyenage, will be popular this Spring, and the same may be said of the combining of red and blue, for both this silhouette and this color scheme are shown by the couturiers.

Paris, March 10. (By The Associated Press)—A demand from the United States that $241,000,000 for its expenses in connection with the occupation of the Rhineland be paid before any reparations were paid was presented to the Allied Finance Ministers at their meeting today.

Washington, March 10 (By the Associated Press)—Secretary Hughes refused today to comment on the news from Paris that representatives of the United States had presented a demand to the allied finance ministers that expenditures aggregating $241,000,000, sustained by the United States in the Rhineland, be paid before any reparations.

There was nothing that could be said on the subject at this time, Mr. Hughes declared.

AUSTRIA TO ASK U. S. TO GIVE UP DEBTS LIEN

Other Foreign Debtors to Seek More Time in Which to Settle

By International News Service.

Vienna, March 10.—Sir William Good, British Commissioner to Austria, will leave shortly for Washington to attempt to get the American government to forego its lien upon Austria's foreign payments, it was learned today.

Washington, March 10.—Far in advance of the debt fund negotiations with foreign governments, officials of the United States expect most of the debtors will find it impossible to adjust the debts on a twenty-year maturity basis, as provided in the funding law.

Great Britain and some of the other stronger nations now find themselves in a position to begin negotiations and make arrangements for payment of interest when the next interest payments fall due in October.

Some of the financially weaker countries, however, may ask that longer periods than twenty-five years be allowed them in which to liquidate their obligations.

The Department of Justice is said to have held that the Debt Funding Commission may proceed with the work by organizing and without waiting for the Senate to confirm appointments of Senator Smoot and Representative Burton.

It is held that the three Cabinet appointees—Secretaries Hughes, Hoover and Mellon—having been confirmed and constituting a quorum, could move forward with the funding plans without further delay.

New York, March 10. (By International News Service)—One of the most important arrests in the intensive war fare against the "drug ring" that has been flooding New York with narcotics has just been made on the East Side by Federal agents, according to the authorities today.

The prisoner is Louis Parabigini, and detectives claim that $500,000 worth of heroin and other drugs were found in his grocery store. The detectives said that Parabigini offered them a bribe of $6,300 to release him after he found he was under arrest.

Two Federal agents posed as drug buyers and took the grocer in a trap.

BRITISH DECIDE TO ARREST GANDHI

Removal of Lord Reading as Viceroy of India Also Expected

London, March 10. (By the Associated Press)—The Earl of Derby, former secretary for war, has been offered the secretaryship for India, in succession to Edwin S. Montagu, who resigned yesterday, according to reports in the Parliamentary lobbies today. In the event of Lord Derby's refusal the Duke of Devonshire is considered the likely appointee.

Delhi, India, March 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—The government has definitely decided to arrest Mohandas K. Gandhi, the non-co-operationist leader. He is now in the Ajmere district, about 220 miles southwest of this city.

London, March 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Removal of Lord Reading as Viceroy of India, it is believed in some quarters, will be the denouement to the publication of the Indian government's note. There is nothing tangible on which to base this belief, but it is not improbable as a sequel to the virtual dismissal of Edwin S. Montagu as Secretary for India.

The probable effect in India of Mr. Montagu's resignation is the subject of much curiosity, and there are some misgivings lest the removal of the champion of Indian political reform have a dangerous repercussion there.

The successor to Secretary Montagu must be appointed soon in view of the dangerous situation in India. The opinion in the lobbies overnight was that Winston Spencer Churchill, who was first mentioned as likely to be appointed, is too intimately concerned in the Irish settlement to allow his removal from his present office as Secretary for the Colonies. There is also talk of the Duke of Devonshire, former Governor-General of Canada.

Troops Formerly in Erin Are Sent to India

Washington, March 10 (By International News Service.—British troops withdrawn from Ireland are arriving in India in considerable number, according to advices received today by S. N. Ghose, director of the American Commission to Promote Self-Government in India.

"How many British troops have been landed I don't know," said Ghose. "But I received word today that at least three regiments of artillery withdrawn from Ireland have landed at Bombay and that infantry and artillery have been landed at Calcutta and Madras."

RECONCILIATION WITH ITALY IS UNLIKELY

Pope Cannot Renounce Rights of Church, Deadlock Exists, Says Cardinal Gasparri

By International News Service.

Rome, March 10.—It is unlikely any move will be made by Pope Pius towards reconciliation between the Vatican and the Italian State, according to the first official announcement on the subject, made today.

As the result of conflicting reports, Cardinal Gasparri, Papal Secretary of State, made the following statement:

"The personal sentiments of Pope Pius towards Italy are known and appreciated. He comes of a patriotic family and proved his love for his country during the war and on his mission to Poland when he was constantly in touch with Italian officers. Again, he proved it as Archbishop of Milan. Twice he publicly blessed crowds and Italian soldiers.

"But as Pontiff, he holds in sacred deposit the rights of the Church of Rome, which he swore to defend upon his accession to the throne. He cannot renounce them.

"Reconciliation is based upon renunciation of the rights of the Holy See. This is impossible. Therefore, there is a deadlock."

HARDING AND PARTY TO CRUISE ON HOUSEBOAT

St. Augustine, Fla., March 10 (By Associated Press).—Golf was first on the program for President Harding today, beginning his week's sojourn in Florida. After luncheon the President and his party had arranged to motor down the coast to Ormond, forty-seven miles distance, and there board the houseboat of E. B. McLean, Washington publisher, who joined the party when its special train passed through Jacksonville on the way here yesterday. It was planned to cruise on the "Nahneoka" as far South as Fort Ledge, probably stopping at favorable opportunities for golf. Secretary Weeks, who came here from Miami, where he has been spending several days, to welcome the party, was not planning to go on the houseboat cruise. The party was expected to include Speaker Gillett.

MEDBURY

Says One Woman Married the Same Man Six Times. Why Marry Somebody Else's Husband When You Can Marry Your Own?

The papers ran a story the other day of a woman who has married the same man six times in ten years. Maybe this is the only way she can get him to go to church.

A woman likes to be a good wife and you can't blame her for wanting to rehearse.

This practice will come in handy in case she wants to marry a strange man some time.

She's heard that all men are the same, so she figures she might as well stick to the one she's used to.

She's in favor of weddings, but she believes in keeping them in the family.

Why marry somebody else's husband when you can marry your own?

Every time she gets married over again she takes on one of the children to the wedding.

The husband has a name like Smith and she figures she might as well marry him over and over because his name is easy to pronounce.

They've been married in every church in town but one and when they finish with what they're going to move to New York.

She says her husband is a wonderful man. A man must be wonderful if the same woman will marry him six times in succession.

They both believe in honeymoons and they always go to Palm Beach.

If they skip a year the hotel wires them to find out what the trouble is.

The minister usually gives them a rate, because he never has to tell them what to say.

The groom always answers "I do" before the parson gets a chance to ask him if "He does."

At the last wedding he put the ring on the bride's fourth finger. The third one was full.

When the left hand gets crowded she'll have to switch to the right.

Their married life never gets tiresome. They break up the monotony with divorces.

They always celebrate their wedding day with a big supper. She gets married every time she gets hungry.

Marriage is the road to Heaven, but you can't expect to get there in a hurry if you take so many stop-overs.

TRAILS HUSBAND AND NIECE WHO ARE MISSING

Saugus Wife Hunts Uncle and 19-Year-Old Girl as Elopers

A country-wide search has been begun for William Hector Inch, thirty-five years old, married, of Appleton street, Saugus, and his nineteen-year-old niece, Miss Kathleen McFarland, both of whom disappeared at the same time on February 22nd whom Inch's wife believes are together.

Circulars containing their photographs and descriptions will be forwarded to the police of all the large cities throughout the country, calling for their apprehension and an especially close search will be made in New England cities and towns for the missing pair.

Miss McFarland had been living at the Inch home for some time previous to her disappearance.

Mrs. Inch has sworn out a warrant against her husband, charging him with desertion. She has waited patiently until this time, she told the police, in the hope that her husband or the niece would communicate with her, but she has not heard a word from either of them and the mystery regarding their disappearance grows deeper daily.

DOCTOR THREATENED IN MURDER MYSTERY

Baltimore, Md., March 10.—"If you don't arrest and hang Dr. McLean by March 17, we will kill him." That unsigned message received by the police today is the outstanding development in the mysterious slaying recently of eight-year-old Clare Stone. Dr. McLean is an intimate friend of the Stone family.

"The message is unwarranted," said Police Commissioner Aither. "Dr. McLean is being done a grave injustice by rumors that have been widespread that he knows something about the murder."

Speaks Highly of This Home Made Cough Remedy

Says It Acts With Unusual Speed—Loosens the Mucus—Relieves the Irritation and Stops the Cough

Costs Next to Nothing—for a Big Supply

Whenever anyone in my family catches cold and begins to cough and sneeze, and hawk and breathe heavy, it doesn't take me many minutes to get up a remedy that will drive away all such troubles in double quick time. It's no secret—anyone can make a half pint of the finest cough medicine in the world for a trifling sum.

Get from any druggist one ounce of Parmint (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one-half pint—that's all there is to it.

But now you've got a real medicine—mind you—the first spoonful you take acts directly on the membrane of the throat and nose, the tickling ceases almost instantly—the inflammation begins to disappear—up comes the stubborn mucus and often in 24 hours every trace of the cough that frightened you is gone.

It's really remarkable how this home-made remedy acts on the mucous membrane and that is one reason it is so helpful to thousands of Catarrh sufferers.—Advertisement.

ROADS SO BAD GHOSTS FAIL TO WALK

Even Spooks Cannot Get Around to Meet Wise Man From New York

Halifax, N. S., March 10.—Urging on the Provincial government the importance of highway improvement, Angus McGillivray, former member of Antigonish, said in the House of Assembly that in his county the roads were so bad in Winter that even the spooks couldn't get around when a wise man from Gotham was waiting to meet them.

Antigonish, March 10. — No chairs have rattled during the two nights' stay of the party of Dr. Walter Prince, director of the American Institute of Psychical Research. No clue has been found in the mysterious fires which have terrorized the neighborhood. No enigmatic apparitions have appeared to scuff out the lights in the "haunted" MacDonald house.

Dr. Prince, anxious to "get to the mat" with the unwelcome visitor as soon as possible, has arranged for some members of the family to occupy their old home, in the hope that there will be some action from the "trouble makers."

Amateur investigators throughout the province and thousands of interested persons are engaged in a controversy as to the cause of the mysterious happenings. The theories of Spiritualists are most prominent. Other theories are natural gas, spontaneous combustion, electrical current and the theory that some person connected with the family has caused the fires and knows all about it.

Dr. Prince has completed all of his investigation. He has nothing to do but to sit around and wait for "his nibs" to put in appearance. He admits that he has not been able to reach a conclusion in the matter.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON BOSTON SOCIETY

Debutantes to Usher at Children's Museum Benefit

By BETTY ALDEN

THOUGH the gay debutante festivities are quite, quite over now, the select coterie of girls making their bow this year still find ample opportunities to lend their services to some charitable cause or another, thereby serving their "Vapprenticeship" as provisional members of the Junior League.

As I have said before, ushering at this or that benefit entertainment stands out conspicuously among the many things which the buds have done this year. Tomorrow morning, at the Exeter Theatre the "just-out" contingent will be given another opportunity to serve as ushers at the benefit entertainment in aid of the Children's Museum. On this occasion Gerald H. Thayer of New York will give his talk so interesting to children, "Secrets of Nature's Camouflage" and will illustrate with no less than 140 lantern slides.

Mrs. Edward C. Wheeler, Jr., (Nancy Hubbard) of Weston is in charge of tomorrow's entertainment. She has appointed Miss Mildred Shepard of Chestnut street as captain of the ushers, and Miss Shepard has chosen her entire corps of helpers from the ranks of the Junior League girls.

The entertainment will begin at 10:30 o'clock. The next entertainment in aid of the Children's Museum is scheduled for March 18, at the same place and hour. On this occasion "Hiawatha," a motion picture, with readings by Mrs. Ruth Crosby Noble of the American Museum of Natural History, will be given. Tickets for both performances may be had at Herrick's, the Exeter Theatre, and at the Children's Museum in Jamaica Plain.

The ways and means committee for the museum includes, besides Mrs. Wheeler, Jr.: Miss Ellen S. Bacon, Mrs. Ingersoll Bowditch, Mrs. F. T. Lord, Mrs. Samuel Cabot, Miss L. G. Cresbore, Mrs. Edwin Farnham Greene, Mrs. Charles B. Perkins, Mrs. Daniel P. Rhodes, Mrs. Robert W. Sayles, Mrs. Charles M. Storey and Mrs. M. deKay Thompson.

The last day or two there has been much ado at Palm Beach, most of the "ado" being caused by the numerous entertainments in honor of the Countess of Annesley. On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peirce Frasier gave a dinner for the titled Englishwoman at their villa, "Sea Gull." Boston, I note, was well represented in the persons of Mrs. Charles F. Choate and Rodney Thayer, the other guests including Mr. and Mrs. Jordan L. Mott, Mrs. Richard Morris, E. L. Arnold, F. H. Sturgis and Allison V. Armour. The Countess has been a member of the "houseboat party" which Mr. Armour has entertained aboard his yacht for the last week.

Another smart entertainment given at the popular resort was the moonlight dance which Horace Chase gave for the younger set at his outdoor dancing pavilion on South Ocean boulevard. Among the guests was Miss Constance Peabody, a member of the Summer colony along the North Shore, and well known to Boston society folk. Also present at Mr. Chase's dance were Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Whitney, Miss Consuela Hatmaker, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., Malcolm Meacham, Angier B. Duke, Commodore and Mrs. E. F. Luckenbach and Cornelius F. Fox.

Among the recent arrivals at Palm Beach is Butler Ames of Lowell, who is staying at the Everglades Club. Mr. Ames makes his home with General and Mrs. Adelbert Ames at their home on Andover street, Lowell.

Tomorrow morning at 10:30, in Brattle Hall, Cambridge, Thornton Burgess will give a stereoptican lecture under the auspices of the Cambridge Hospital Nurses' Alumni Association.

Included on the list of patronesses for the occasion are Mesdames Charles Bullock, George Dew, A. M. Goodale, Lowell Kennedy, Edgar Crocker, Edgar Pierce, Alexander Hill, Edmund L. Parker, Francis L. Kershaw, Edwin Boggs, Roland Thaxter, Robert Alcott, Frank Hastings and Charles Peabody.

Tickets are on sale at Anne Brothers' or at Mrs. C. M. Hutchinson's, No. 5 Garden street.

Random Notes of Society Folk in Town and Country

MRS. JOHN R. THORNDIKE (Caroline Wyeth) of Boston is visiting in New York, where she is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Stephen G. Williams, at the latter's home at No. 1155 Park avenue. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Thorndike's sister, Mrs. Cass Gilbert, Jr., gave a tea in her honor at her home on East Ninetieth street. Mr. and Mrs. Thornlike, who were married last June at St. James' Church, New York, have been making their home at No. 3 Greenough street, Brookline.

President of Harvard and Mrs. A. Lawrence Lowell are spending a few days at the New Willard Hotel, Washington, D. C.

Miss Muriel Crocker is opening her home on Commonwealth avenue for a benefit concert tomorrow, when Miss Pauline Hall will sing and others of unusual merit will contribute to the program. The proceeds will go to the Boston School of Occupational Therapy.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denegre of New Orleans and Washington, and prominent members of the Summer colony at the North Shore, have returned to the capital following a brief stay in New York. During their sojourn in the latter place Mr. and Mrs. Denegre gave a dinner at the Ritz-Carlton. The Denegre Summer estate in Manchester is known as "Villa-crest." Their daughter, the former Elaine Denegre, was married last June to young William D. Sohier, Jr., of Boston, the wedding being one of the most important nuptial events solemnized last June along the Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Warren have arrived from Boston in New York and are registered at the Hotel Lorraine.

Two young women, both well known to Boston society folk present at the luncheon given recently at the capital by Mrs. John H. Mitchell were, Princess Bertha Cantacuzene, sister-in-law of the former Clarisa Curtis of Boston, and Miss Anna Hamlin, who spends the Summers at the Hamlin estate at Mattapoisett and is a member of several Boston clubs, including the Chilton Club. The luncheon was given in honor of Mrs. Mitchell's debutante niece, Miss Martha Hawley.

Mr. and Mrs. William Grosvenor have returned to their home in Providence, concluding a visit with Mrs. Grosvenor's mother, Mrs. Wilbur E. Wilder, in Washington.

Members of the Boston and New York colonies along the North Shore were interested to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Payne Whitney of New York will again spend the Summer at Pride's Crossing. They have leased for another season Richard D. Sears' place, formerly the Cochrane estate.

15 KILLED IN EXPLOSION ON BOLSHEVIK SHIP

Constantinople, March 10 (By the Associated Press).—Fifteen of the crew of the Bolshevik transport Corki were killed and many wounded when the ship's cargo of hand grenades exploded at Trebizond on the Black Sea. The explosion also did some damage to the town, where great quantities of munitions have been received lately from Russia.

Trebizond is in Asiatic Turkey, and the reference to the movement of munitions from Russia would indicate that the Turkish Nationalist Army was being supplied from that source.

PRIEST DIES AT SIGHT OF PROWLERS

Providence Pastor Collapses in Arms of Policeman Sent to Catch Suspect

Manchester, N. H., March 10.—The city excitement while watching suspicious persons in the vicinity of the rectory, the Rev. Fr. Bernard F. Logan, pastor of St. Raymond's Church, North Main street, fell dead in the arms of Patrolman Arthur F. Davie.

The priest had previously summoned the officer when he saw two men prowling around in the vicinity of the church and rectory. The officer had just appeared on the scene when the pastor stepped to the door and hailed him.

The patrolman hastened to the rectory and arrived just as Father Logan swooned. The officer threw out his hands and saved the priest from dropping to the floor. He carried him to a chair, sat him down and then called physicians. The priest was dead before they arrived.

Heart failure, due to over-excitement was given as the cause of his death.

No trace of the suspects could be found near the church.

Father Logan had been stationed in this city since 1911. He had always served as pastor of St. Raymond's Church.

PASTOR STRIKES UNTIL FLOCK REFORMS

Michigan Minister Declares Congregation Attends Merely for Pleasant Time

Elk Rapids, Mich., March 10.—Charging that his parishioners attend church merely to "have a pleasant time," the Rev. Morton W. Ross, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church here has gone on strike and refused to officiate at services until his congregation reforms.

The alleged use of hymn books by the younger churchgoers, to cover handclasps during the service, is reported as one of the practices of which the pastor complains.

"So far as I have been able to ascertain," the letter announcing Dr. Ross' "strike" declares, "the only objective which our people have before them is that of perpetuating a sort of social club.

"From this time on, my ministrations will be performed privately, rather than publicly. I will administer the holy sacramenta of the church to those who desire them and I will officiate at burial for the dead when requested, but I must decline to officiate at the regular public services of the church."

Rev. Mr. Ross says he also objects strenuously to the practice of his men parishioners pitching horseshoes outside of the church, delaying the service until the matches were finished.

1 HELD, 1 FREED AFTER PARTY IN BUILDING

Two men, alleged to have received stolen property from Archibald McDonald, watchman in the Jewelers' Building, arrested Tuesday after, police say, they found him with two girls, one half-dressed, were arraigned in Municipal Court today. They were Eugene Tippetts and Henry Sawyer, employed in a Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, restaurant.

Tippetts was held in $500 and Sawyer was discharged.

McDonald, whom police say, has admitted having taken jewelry from several of the offices in the building where he worked, testified that he sold several trinkets to both men.

BANKER DENIES PLAN TO TAKE OVER TREMONT

The head of a Boston banking institution, whose name was not revealed, called on Governor Cox today for the purpose of confirming a rumor that the name of his institution had been given as one willing to take over the affairs of the Tremont Trust Company. When told that the statement was correct, he denied that he had ever made the offer. At a conference with the Governor yesterday, Simon Swig said that he and a committee from the bank had told the Governor that there were several institutions willing to take over the Tremont.

U. S. RULE OVER RADIO IS URGED BY CONFERENCE

Allocation of Wave Lengths Among Sending Stations Is Plan Favored

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 10.—Allocation of twenty wave lengths among the various classes of wireless telephony senders and government control of establishment of all commercial wireless transmitting telephone stations are recommended by the three committees of the government radio conference made public today.

The recommendations do not provide for government control of receiving stations, which Secretary Hoover has said have increased into the hundreds of thousands in the last few months.

Amateur transmitting stations under the committee's proposals would be given exclusive use of wave lengths from 150 to 200 meters and share with technical and training schools wave lengths of from 200 to 275 meters.

Other recommendations are that wave lengths below 6,000 meters should in a general way be reserved for "radio telephone service, and that those wave lengths which have become fixed in service for telegraph services within this range, such as S. O. S. signals, shall be retained."

The committee's report expressed "the hope and expectation that the radio telephone may ultimately keep the whole range from zero to 5,000 meters."

WOULD HARNESS RADIO TO COLLEGE TEACHING

New Haven, March 10.—The possibility of President James Rowland Angell broadcasting an address to Yale alumni associations holding meetings simultaneously at many places in the country, from his office in Woodbridge Hall, was speculated on by the Yale Alumni Weekly today. The Weekly believes radio broadcasting can be harnessed to the needs of the university's graduate body. It suggests the possibility of a university consisting of a faculty and a broadcasting speaking machine with a student body at home, even in Chicago and California.

RUSSIA AFTER BUSINESS, LENINE TELLS WORKERS

Moscow, March 10.—Russia is going into the Genoa conference to lay the foundations for "big business," according to Nicolai Lenine, in an address to the metal workers here. He said: "We are going there in the position of traders beginning to do business. We know there are great future potentialities."

Showers of Rocks on Warehouse Puzzle California Police

Chico, Cal., March 10.—Showers of rocks that fall "from the clouds" on a warehouse here have baffled the police, neighbors and various official and unofficial investigators.

Today the owner posted the offer of $200 to the person revealing the source of the rocks.

While the town marshal and a committee of newspaper men and others were examining the corrugated iron roof yesterday, a shower of large smooth rocks fell, sending the investigators scurrying for cover.

Others, standing on the street, declared the rocks seemed to come straight from the clouds.

MAYOR TO ASK $500,000 FOR STREETS

Believes $1,240,000 Will Be Needed to Put Bridges of City in Good Shape

Mayor Curley on Monday will send a loan order to the City Council asking that $500,000 be appropriated for the street-laying-out department. The Mayor said this is $300,000 less than the usual amount, but that he could not spend so much money this year on the streets on account of the bad condition of the city bridges.

"It will take more than $1,240,000 to put the bridges in good condition," said the Mayor. The Chelsea south bridge will cost $750,000. It is at present a temporary structure and in a bad condition. Work will be started soon, as bids have been asked for.

So much heavy traffic goes over this bridge the Mayor fears an accident. A few days ago he was over the bridge on a tour of inspection, and found several semi-convertible cars and heavy auto trucks at a standstill. He has ordered a policeman there to keep traffic moving. If the weight of traffic should cause anything to break, it would be a drop of more than sixty feet into the river.

Dover street bridge caught fire about ten months ago and is still in the process of reconstruction. South Boston people have to use the Broadway bridge.

The Allston bridge will cost $150,000, Beacon street bridge $220,000 and bridge repairs $120,000.

STOMACH TROUBLE

In five minutes "Pape's Diapepsin" ends

Indigestion	Gases	Acidity
Sourness	Flatulence	Palpitation

Take "Pape's Diapepsin" now! In five minutes your stomach feels fine. Don't bother what upset your stomach or which portion of the food did the damage. If your stomach is sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; you belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear. If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only sixty cents for a large case at drug stores.—Advertisement.

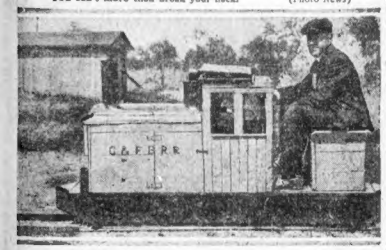
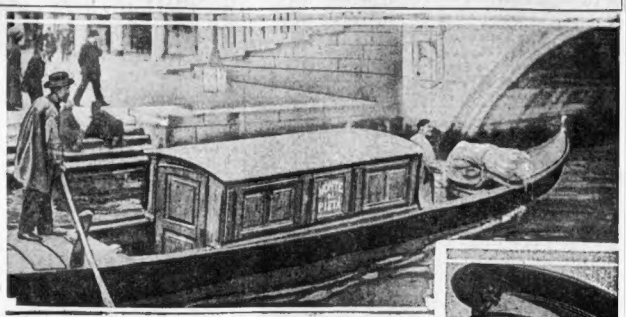
BACHELOR MAYOR REFUSES TO BAR SEA CUTIES

A LITTLE HOARSE FROM WRESTLING! Did you ever wrestle on horseback? Australian soldiers, who play it a lot, say its the best sport imaginable. This photo was taken at Sydney. You wrestle without saddle or shoes astride the horse. Try it. You can't more than break your neck. (Photo News)



ROLLING HIS OWN! W. Cecil Gage, wealthy farmer of Fishkill, N. Y., believes in private ownership of railroads, so he bought his own. Uses it to ship farm products to distributing point. Locomotive is run by gasoline. Here is the railroad magnate and his "injine." (International)

DO YOU LIKE FRUIT? Here's a peach with a tres jolie coiffure du soir. An original photo showing a new Paris fad, an evening headgear of grapes. Not all kinds of fruit are used. Watermelon, for instance. (Underwood)



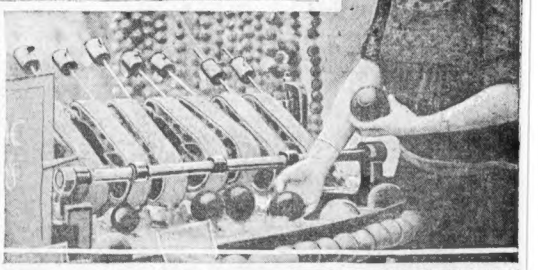
OPEN PRAYER! A strong Mohammedan revival is sweeping India as a result of what Moslems believe is an unjust Christian aggression upon Turkey. Open prayer, as above, is becoming prevalent. (Gilliams)

"UNCLE" TAKES TO WATER! So this is Venice! And would you believe that this romantic looking gondola is a public "hock shop" making its way from station to station. It is strangely called a "monte de piete."

MAJOR M. Wheeler Nicholson, U. S. A., who appears before a court-martial at Camp Dix, N. J., accused of having written letters charging government to be operated by a clique and that oppressive "Prussianism" exists here. (International)

FIGURING IN THE NEWS! Miss Irene Delroy of San Francisco, whose slender perfection has won the enthusiastic praise of Haig Patigan, noted sculptor. He says she has the most nearly perfect figure in the country.

THE MAYOR SHOWS "HOSS SENSE!" Frank Fortune Pulver, millionaire bachelor and mayor of St. Petersburg, Fla., refuses to quarrel with the local Purity League, but he won't bar the one-piece bathing suit. Here he is acting as "bathing suit inspector." (Underwood.)



BIRDS OF A FEATHER! Sir Keith Smith, left, and Sir Ross Smith, brothers, of Australia, who are preparing for a flight around the world. They were knighted for flying from England to Australia. (International.)

WHOA! New electric signal successfully tried out in San Francisco. It is operated by traffic officer centrically located. Ten or twelve are operated at same time. Gong sounds when direction of signal is to be changed. (International.)

THIS IS NOT THE SOUTH SEA ISLANDS, So Don't Look for any Cooing Dancing Girls! It's the oddest golf clubhouse in the Western Hemisphere, and its dignified title is the "Nineteenth Hole." It is the haven of the Panama Golf Club, Panama, Canal Zone. This picture was taken in honor of Charles Comiskey of Chicago, owner of the White Sox, who with a party of friends was accorded a warm welcome by the club members. Can you find the "old Roman"? (Wide World.)

TOPPING IT OFF SMARTLY! Have you seen an advance fashion that is smarter and more bewitching than this little hat of Italian Milan and fluffy ostrich white? We doubt if you have. It's one of the new models exclusive to this newspaper and can easily be copied. It won't require chicanery to win hubby over to this chic hat. (Underwood.)

BRAND NEW, BUT A SKIN GAME, NEVERTHELESS! Unscrupulous fruit dealers remove wrappers from best oranges and wrap "seconds" therein. This new orange-branding machine prevents this. The ink is indelible, hence there can be no substitution.

SHE ROSE QUICKLY! Katherine MacDonald, filmite, the "American Beauty," has just been elected to represent the most beautiful woman in America at the Swarmer Galleries, Kansas City. (P. S.—We are not the lady's press agent.)

PROVING THAT NEEDLEWORK NEEDS PATIENCE! This wonderful piece of artistry was called the best original design in white work at the National Needlework Exhibit, held in the Hotel McAlpin, New York city. It was made by Charlotte Hagg of Brooklyn. The most skilled workers in the country had exhibits at show. (Fotograms.)

"COPPING" WITH CRIME! Chicago policemen, first to use radio, may now receive messages from headquarters by means of a new pocket wireless set. The set is worn as in the photograph when in use.

Buy Memorials for Dead While Veterans Starve

"Is it better to erect a memorial over the dead body of a soldier in France, or to save the living one enough to keep his body and soul together?

This question, from an ex-service man, who has reached the limit of endurance in a weary, fruitless quest for employment, is asked of the Boston American as one of the many reasons why we feel that the issue of the bonus for a soldier bonus is [illegible]

I should think that if the United States government is not willing to spend money on the living [illegible] Harding it would have enough for the dead [illegible]

The writer of a [illegible] says he served a [illegible] and [illegible] was another of the [illegible] who went to [illegible] Americanization [illegible] [illegible] Harding [illegible] Well, I'm through with [illegible] I'm through with the whole system, and refuse to [illegible] work. VETERAN'S WIFE SPEAKS.

And so he asks: "Will we spend money building memorials to the dead soldiers? Why not use the money to show a little appreciation for the effort of the living veterans of the town to fought and who are now in need and want."

A veteran's wife, who suffered with her husband through the most [illegible] memory [illegible] and [illegible] of the soldier, to be [illegible] who enrolled [illegible] to help [illegible] Dorothea Dix in the war.

Stephen G. Nolan, adjutant of Columbia Post, No. 61, American Legion, with headquarters on Arlington street, South Boston, writes in behalf of his post as follows:

"At our regular semi-monthly meeting the members of this post unanimously endorsed the campaign now being conducted in Boston. After [illegible] in favor of the five-fold adjusted compensation bill.

RAPS STAY-AT-HOMES.

"The everlasting gratitude of the veterans will always be due the Hearst papers, which have always stood by the ex-service men through thick and thin."

A similar commendation was received from Lewis E. Sullivan, Jr., chairman of the [illegible] committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He writes as follows:

"It was the unanimous vote of the Suffolk County council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to express our appreciation to your [illegible] for its attitude on the adjusted compensation act. [illegible] [illegible] at its annual [illegible] held in Faneuil Hall last Sunday.

"We also think through your publication, the service man's champion—none other than our true friend, William Randolph Hearst.

"This [illegible] stay-at-homes say they [illegible] as much as we did by [illegible] Liberty Bonds and work [illegible] in munition plants," he remarks. "But what they do not understand is that they got 5 per cent interest on their bonds and fat wages for the little work they did. After the war they had horses, money and autos to go joy riding now they write letters and [illegible] over the bonus."

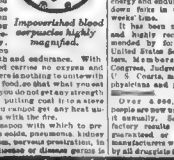
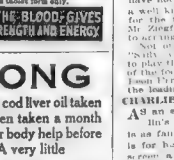
Why You Need Iron—

To Make You Strong and "Brainy" and Put the Power Into Your Blood To Overcome Disease Germs

The food you eat contains carbon. When your food is digested it is absorbed from the intestines into the blood. What the carbon in your food comes in contact with the oxygen carried by the iron in your blood, the carbon and oxygen unite and by so doing they give off tremendous energy, thereby giving you great force, strength and endurance. Without iron your blood carries no oxygen and without oxygen there is nothing to unite with the carbon in your food, so that what you eat does you no good—you do not get any strength from it—it is like putting coal in to a stove without a fire. You cannot get any heat unless the coal unites with the fire.



Impoverished blood corpuscles highly magnified.



Healthy blood corpuscles highly magnified

The strongest weapon with which to prevent and overcome colds, pneumonia, kidney trouble, rheumatism, nervous prostration, in fact almost any disease or disease germs is plenty of good rich, pure blood, strength, energy and endurance and the greatest energy carrier in the body is organic iron, not metallic iron which people usually take, but organic iron like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, and like the iron contained in what is known as organic Nuxated Iron, which may be had from almost any druggist. Nuxated Iron often increases the strength, energy and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down folks in two weeks' time.

It has been used and highly recommended by former United States Senators, Members of Congress, Judges of U. S. Courts, many physicians and prominent.

Over a million people are now using it annually. Satisfactory results are guaranteed or the manufacturers will refund your money. Sold by all druggists in tablet form only.

MOTION PICTURE NEWS

By FRIEDA DAVIS.

THAT the movies have their hold—and no weak one—on the people of America, from Broadway to Main street is shown by the constant reference to quite the best seller of the day, and Hollywood life in Harrison Leon Wilson's "Merton of the Movies" running in the Saturday Evening Post. More than one person has asked me confidentially: "It's awfully exaggerated isn't it?" The people don't talk and write like that do they?

There is, as a matter of fact, very little exaggeration about the story. Hollywood is filled with thousands of would-be players, drawn from every part of the world from every walk of life, and from every strata. The "lot" of a studio a third every day will, at times of casting, be composed of anybody, be anybody and any place.

Mr Wilson pays particularly interesting homage of the action during the row among and shooting of the cast.

Bobby called the director "Dutton and then some! Listen! You earns like a lot of chicken running off of a public school but I expect how! break it up like each other. Right to get ahead and write notes to Varie who else. You're suing Whittaker. What for alienation? What's it matter? What was did he get? Say anything you want to but keep quiet. It's funny at all. See There's gold in them hills. If you can't think of any better can for an now. Do it again and we'll see. Turn the juice on! Open up the old baffles!"

A SHIPWRECK SCENE.

"It's done a director, exhort the hosts of extras!

I am quoting from the current installment of the story.

Again the author gives a picture of a shipwreck scene in the interior of the studio walls. Bobby is in need of rest.

"It was just a scene of thrilling action. Heroes and heroines from the sinking craft floated on rafts to safety, time to time as all stunts were made. The rescuing was over and the deck was empty. Bobby's 30 by Merton Gray perceived. The rescued lay lost and beautifully upheld in a pale

"Swoon," he cried was on and with terror in his voice. In great waves and he was unconscious of perhaps moments. Great in one of new rescue deeds. Merton Gray gazed in silent pride. A few moments so descended with [illegible] them. Then he [illegible] them with out sufficient to [illegible] suggest. The one second [illegible] the swift resolution of [illegible] plate propelled he had [illegible] which ago. The floating beams were pulled from the box tank at the end of the scaffold, and the boat rocked in obedience to the tugging of a rope—and from the shore by a [illegible] of help—that ran to the top of the mast.

And so does Harry Leon Wilson expose the secrets of the studio-made thrills!

LLOYD DENIES RUMOR

HAROLD LLOYD has said word last to announce that there is absolutely no truth in the rumor that he is to marry Mildred Davis, his leading lady, or for that matter, at any time. Because they have been friends off the lot as well as on, people have acquired the habit of coupling their names. This is particularly true since Bebe Daniels has consistently and definitely refused to marry Lloyd.

"SALLY" NEXT.

THE Ziegfeld musical success, "Sally," has to Kinder be but a name to out of towners who have not seen it on Broadway, for a well known producer is angling for the film rights to the story. Mr Ziegfeld, it is said is very kind to act upon the work.

Not only that, but the original Sally company may be the one to play the roles they created back of the footlights. Marilyn Miller, Leon Errol and Walter Catlett are the leading players.

CHARLIE AND LLOYD GEORGE.

AS an example of Charlie Chaplin's democracy, for which he is as famous off the screen as he is for his feet and acting on the screen a friend of his has told the following tale of the Canadian abroad.

Through mass thousands of people flowed about him all the time he said. He never showed the least sign of nervousness or self. Why on the day he had an engagement to lunch with Lloyd George, he met or showed up. And that's how democratic he is."

KEEP EYES ON TIGERS, EXPERTS' ADVICE TO RIVAL CLUBS

By DAVID J. WALSH

Augusta, Ga., March 10—Seventeen years and almost to a month a certain manager stood at the gate of the Augusta baseball park and informed a certain player that his ridiculous services were no longer required. Legouie he passed through a nasty pair of upper incisors. The player, my outfield aristocrat, was Ty Cobb, and the manager was Hughie Jennings, and the reason for the dismissal the desire of the former to see the latter get a little more action on the ball field than he was getting at the time. Cobb, those who don't know, those who don't remember, those who don't care, is the greatest baseball player of all time. He is now Mr. Cobb, the gentleman who has given his native state more publicity than General Sherman's march, where once he was "Hey, you" the cap

Robert W. Chambers' Charming Romance JAPONETTE Illustrated by Charles Dana Gibson

A Delightfully Refreshing Story of Society and the Newly Rich, Wherein Love and a Woman's Way with a Man Play a Big Part.

THE STORY SO FAR

James Edgerton, 3d, of an old and aristocratic New York family, returns to New York from abroad on hearing that the firm founded by his forbears has failed. He pays dollar for dollar and finds himself left with an inherited apartment luxuriously furnished, which as Iron-clad will has entailed. With two dollars in his pockets he refuses the offer of an old-time friend to help, goes to the apartment, and finds it occupied by two charming young women, distant cousins, who beg him to forgive them for being there. They are as poor as he is and have advertised for a position, using the apartment as their headquarters. They ask him to let them stay until they get employment. All three form a partnership to seek work together. A position is secured with the family of Mr. Rivett, rich, but ignorant of social customs. They arrive at his estate in the Berkshires.

"It isn't in him to be it. And there are plenty of his own sort who would be glad to—"

"Why do you say that?" she asked. "Have you noticed any particular strength of character in Jim Edgerton?"

"Yes. He is no fool as well as a drifter and dilettante. He has ideals. . . . I am not one of them—I know that."

"Do you care particularly?"

"Why do you speak to me that way."

"Because—I don't—know."

She turned and moved toward the bed, encountered the soft, open arms of her sister. They closed around her; she laid her head on Silvette's shoulder.

Leaning, Diana said, whispered Silvette in sorrowful consternation. "Has this really happened to you?"

FINANCE AND BUSINESS

By B. C. FORBES

I had a chat yesterday with Thomas H. Wilson, the very level-headed democratic Chicago packer. Some of the things he told me will interest you.

There has been very general rejoicing over the great advance in the prices our farmers have been receiving for wheat and corn and hogs and sheep. As the packer is the go-between so to speak, between the agricultural producer and the American consumer, he naturally considers matters from both points of view. While very radical a transformation has occurred in the condition of our agricultural population, Mr. Wilson sees serious economic dangers ahead if it should go much further.

* * *

Take the price of hogs, about which everyone is talking.

How much do you think the farmer gets for each bushel of corn turned into hog products at current prices?

A dollar a bushel.

It works out, as I understand it, this way. It takes about eleven bushels of corn to form 100 pounds of pork. For his 100 pounds of pork the farmer today receives $11.

This being so, farmers all over the country have taken to increasing their stocks of pigs and are bent upon increasing the production of corn in order to feed them. This policy on the part of the farmers is reflected by the rise in the increase in the number of sows being shipped to market. Mr. Wilson warns that this must inevitably lead to tremendous over-production of pork before the end of this year and that prices, as a consequence, will fall to a level which will cause bitter disappointment among the farmers.

* * *

To avert this trouble, Mr. Wilson urges that measures be taken to increase the consuming power of meat. If consumption could be increased one-half pound per person per week it would mean a demand for approximately 10,000,000 more hogs and the consumption of an additional 250,000,000 bushels of corn.

The Department of Agriculture is cognizant of this situation and may take steps calculated to remedy the trouble which Mr. Wilson sees ahead. It would not be human nature for farmers to restrict production of corn or the raising of hogs when such tempting prices are current. The remedy, therefore, must be sought at the other end, that is by increasing consumption. How to bring this about is, of course, a problem calling for the widest and most intelligent education and cooperation.

* * *

While Wilson & Co.'s annual report, to be issued next week, will not form particularly cheerful reading, any more than other annual reports now being issued, it will represent the business world to know that since January 1 there has been a distinct improvement in the business and that normal profits are again being realized.

Not only so, but Mr. Wilson is confident that the entire business situation is undergoing slow improvement. He has been traveling throughout the country a great deal, and his observations and investigations convince him that recovery is not likely to be rapid. But he is quite sure that the trend will be towards gradual betterment. This, his opinion, is preferable to any sudden or drastic upturn in conditions.

* * *

Like most other business men engaged in large-scale operations, Mr. Wilson believes that the extreme possible diligence should be exercised to effect the best funding arrangements possible—we will be forced to the conclusion sooner or later that numbers of our foreign debtors will not be able to meet their obligations to us and that we will find it necessary to write them off as bad debts. He will accept nises, however, that public sentiment in this country revolts at this stage against all talk of debt cancellation, and that this being so the thing to do is to press forward negotiations for long time funding wherever this can be effected.

* * *

The acute depression we have been suffering from during the last eighteen months has begun wholesome and salutary declares Mr. Wilson. Before the boom collapsed, all classes had become obsessed by unsound, impossible notions. We simply had to get back to hard-pan. We have had our chastening and are now in a condition to resume normal effort and work. By conducting ourselves sensibly, energetically, patiently, industriously we shall, he feels quite sure, bring about reasonably good conditions from now on.

BIG GAINS BY A NUMBER OF ISSUES

Westinghouse Air Brake Slumps 13 Points on Dividend Cut; Trading Active

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor.

While gains were the rule on the New York Exchange at the close, realization selling in the last hour set the list well below the highest level for the day. A few losses made big gains during the session, but Westinghouse Air Brake slumped 12 points because of the reduction of its dividend.

Largest gains included eight points for Kelsey Wheel, six for Fisher Body, three for Electric Storage Battery, three for General Asphalt and 2½ for Consolidated Gas Utilities, which sold at a record highest price. Trading was active, exceeding 400,000 shares. The call rate dropped to 3½ per cent.

The market had a quiet and irregular opening, but for the second period was upward. Oils, gas issues, motors and rails were leaders. Studebaker's annual report, showing $16.21 a share earned on common in 1921, sent that issue up more than 7 points to 107, but at its highest since 1920, which was true of General Motors as well as a number of other issues not high for this year to date, including New York Central, Pennsylvania, Lehigh Valley and Great Northern preferred. The latter reported for 1921 net income of $25,826, equal to $11.41 a share on outstanding stock.

Gains were the rule at noon and were increased during the midday period. Early in the afternoon profit taking caused some quarters to recede.

The opening call rate was 4 or cent. An easier money situation over the country at large is indicated by the Federal Reserve system's reserve note ratio, being 77.3 this week against 76.7 a week ago. Foreign exchange rates sagged a little in the morning.

No Evidence of a Wane in Bull Movement

By W. S. COUSINS.

(Copyright, 1922, by Cosmopolitan News Service.)

New York, March 10.—There is no visible evidence that the upward trend in the stock market has run its course. The market at today's session was firm and strong, with the exception of the final profit taking period, which has become characteristic of the day's market in recent days. While maintaining its lead in the downward movement the steady advance of the past month, the market showed its ability to bear along the specialties which have been comparatively dormant.

The specialties and the equipment stocks are in a strong position, their strength being due to the lack of stock withdrawal.

There are two reasons for the bullish sentiment which has been gradually developing in the railroad shares and which from the opening of the stock market today was reflected in the steadily ascending prices for railroad issues.

New York Central's statement for 1921 disclosed the largest net per share and the sentiment persists in the financial district that their report of operations will result in sufficient additions to net earnings to warrant a substantial increase in the dividend rate.

The current statement of the Great Northern was surprising, giving earnings of 1921 equivalent to over $11 a share on stock.

The attention of investors has been directed to the preferred shares of Studebaker, of which the issue is for $8,000 outstanding, and it is said the amount available for dividends will be $100 a share.

Corn Products earned $9.21 a share on its common stock last year when other companies in the same business were lucky to make fixed charges. During the past eight years a total of $72 a share has been added to surplus account, bonding and fixed charges to over $45,000,000.

Following the announcement of a reduction in the dividend rate of Westinghouse Air Brake from a 7 to a 6 per cent. basis, the stock declined from 98 to 85, a decline of 13 points.

It is understood that Kelsey Wheel's preliminary report will disclose earnings at close to $20 a share. An increase of the current dividend is rumored.

Feb. Bond Business Totaled a Billion

By MUNROE ROBERTS.

(Copyright, 1922, by Cosmopolitan News Service.)

New York, March 10.—A good deal was evident in the prime investment bonds in today's market, absorbing all the new issues that were offered by the banking syndicates and spreading to the listed bond department of the New York Stock Exchange.

Bond dealers report that the heavy buying of prime securities has left few if any on the bargain counters, and that their chief limitation in handling new lists to meet the growing demands of their customers, Victory 4¼s and similar prime issues. Liberty Bond issues sold at from 6 to 16 points above yesterday's prices.

During the month of February, according to figures made public today, the total transactions in bonds on the New York Stock Exchange amounted to $999,345,000. As the exchange transactions are confined to only one-third of the total bond business of the financial district, the indications are that the bond trading amounted to one billion dollars.

Bond dealers say the greatest investment demand at the present is for public utilities.

Today's new offerings include an issue of $5,000,000 of Western States Gas and Electric Company first mortgage 1 per cent, at 95.

AM. TELEPHONE AT HIGH FOR FOUR YEARS

New England Rails More Active; Coppers Are Heavy; Curb Irregular

While the Boston market was irregular at the opening and stayed so during the forenoon, a majority of active issues advanced. The close was fairly firm at noon. New England rails, especially Boston & Maine issues, showed a little more life. Coppers were heavy and there was negligible trading in packing shares.

American Telephone, which sold above 121, reached its highest figure for four years. Highs a year or more were made by Boston & Albany, Boston & Maine and Agricultural Chemical common and preferred. Boston & Maine advanced 3, United Drug 3⅝, Agricultural Chemical preferred 2 and Boston Elevated 2¼.

Point or more gains were shown by Boston & Maine, Boston & Maine A, Swift & Co. and Agricultural Chemical common. Calumet & Hecla dropped 6 points.

The market displayed more strength in the afternoon. The strength of Boston Elevated was attributed to the official opinion that a five-cent fare law would be unconstitutional. Boston & Maine common increased its gain to nearly three points. Maine Central was up 1¾, Rutland preferred 2, and Calumet & Arizona 1¾. American Telephone held sold at high at 121¼.

The Curb was mixed as to price movement, but strong rather than weak. A few issues were active, but trading was narrow as a whole. Leading were Boston & Montana, Eureka and Mutual. Gains at noon included Boston & Montana 4 cents at 50 cents, Eureka 4 cents at 25 cents, Mohican 1 cent at 19 cents, Verde Mines 1 cent at 24 cents and Verde Central 1-16 at 4⅛. Among losses were Mutual 2 cents at 28 cents, Bagdad 1 cent at 27 cents, United Verde Extension ¼ at 28¾, and Jerome Verde Development ⅛ at 17⅞.

U. S. REFUSES TO BE AGAIN 'TOUCHED'

Our Withdrawal Takes Last Prop From Genoa Conference, Says Evans

By C. B. EVANS.

Chicago, March 10.—The last prop has dropped out from under the Genoa Conference. It was a theoretic prop, to be sure, but it served a purpose. It was the expectation, or belief, that the United States was further susceptible to the blandishments of members of the human family out of funds and seeking relief from the rich uncle.

Likely enough the conference will be held and the delegates will go through the motion, but the main support of the structure is gone, and those in attendance are liable to have the timbers falling on their heads. It will be a barbecue feast and no side of beef to roast.

Yet this country might have joined without compromising itself had it not have given Europe a little sensible advice when the people first began to go to pieces. Europe, however, that we are too far away in our thoughts and our government, however, that we are too far away in our thoughts and our government, however, that we are too the very things we consider the most essential would be the very things we could. And as European politics the United States is the same shy coy bird it was before the war began. We have enough politics of our own at home to absorb all the attention the world that might come out of the conference and a feeling that Europe was trying another pull at the leg of the United States.

Chicago Grain Market

(By Commercial News Service.)

Chicago, March 10.—Wheat started fractionally to lower prices and corn and oats steady to firm. Trade was fairly active. Considerable short covering was in evidence and the market finally rendered the market a rather steady undertone during the early minutes. Weather reports of the effect of the winter wheat belt were again favorable. Light rains were experienced over the Panhandle last night.

Provisions were slow. Hogs at the yards were 10c lower. Receipts here today showed a moderate number of cars.

Opening prices were:

Wheat—May, 1.30¾ to 1.31⅛; July, 1.13⅛ to 1.13¼. Corn—May, 61¾ to 61⅞; July, 64¾ to 64⅞. Oats—May, 39½ to 39¾; July, 40¾ to 40⅞. Lard—May, 10.50; July, 10.77. Ribs—May, 10.50.

Foreign Exchange

New York, March 10.—An easier tone was displayed in the foreign exchange market here today following. Demand sterling opened at 4.35¾ and cables $4.36. French francs sold at $.895 cables, for a loss of .94¼, lire was slightly lower at $5.08 and marks also depressed at $.29.

Higher Price for Copper

A local financial publication states that approximately 2,000,000 pounds of copper were sold yesterday at 13¼ cents a pound, and that 5,000,000 more pounds could have been disposed of at that price. For the larger tonnage the seller wanted 13¾ cents. The market closed nominally at 13 cents a pound or less.

London Market

London, March 10.—The stock market was dull today. Canada 5½s, 1926, British war loan 5s, 1929-47, 87½; 4½s, 1925-45, 84; 5s, 1919, 99¾; 5½s, 1929-47, 97½; 4½s, 1925-45,

PARTICIPANTS IN TEST ARE WARNED AGAINST FAKERS

Participants in the Boston American's $5,000 Famous Titles Test are warned, cautioned and adjured to pay absolutely no attention to the fakers who offer them "lists of possible answers" for use in this Test.

There now are at least two firms operating in such lists. If they can learn, through any channel, that you are interested, either or both of them will offer you a "possible list of answers" for one dollar.

Keep your dollar! DON'T be bunked!

If you examine the offer closely, you will observe that what you are promised is a list of POSSIBLE answers.

What does that amount to?

Exactly what it says. Nothing at all!

PROBABLY MUCH BETTER.

The titles which YOU will decide upon, for YOURSELF, will be POSSIBLE answers, at least as good and probably much better than either of the two fakers we know about can prepare.

The Boston American does not want the Famous Titles Test to cost any participant a nickel. The Test is merely one attraction added to all the others which feature your favorite evening newspaper. In order that everybody who likes may take part without expense the rule was made that "copies" of the drawings would be accepted on the same terms as pieces cut from the paper.

No List of Possible Answers that you can buy anywhere will place you in the prize-winning division of this contest. On the contrary, the POSSIBLE answers selected by fakers and sold at one dollar, or at any other price, can result in nothing except confusion. Pay no attention to them if you expect to have ANY success in the Famous Titles Test. They are the money-making schemes of cheap fakers.

While the intention was apparent enough in each case, there were three minor typographical errors in yesterday's List of Titles, the list accompanying Drawing No. 8. The three titles in question should read:

Friends Beyond
He's None the Worse for That
In Imminent Peril

CORRECT TITLE FITS.

The Famous Titles Test will consist of 60 drawings, each of which you will see here for the first time without a title.

The Correct Title can be found in the List of Titles which will accompany the drawing. For example, today we have Drawing No. 9. In the List of Titles printed on the same page can be found one title which fits No. 9 perfectly. That title is the Correct Title. Once you have seen it you will have no doubt in the matter of its aptness. Write it on the designated line in box below the picture and wait for Drawing No. 10 and a new List of Titles.

Writing Correct Titles is as easy as that!

And, if you write MORE Correct Titles than are written by any other contestant, the Boston American will ask you to accept One Thousand Dollars in cash. In a day or two we are to make exactly that request of a Cambridge young woman, guided somehow by laws of her duties as a stenographer, devoted some of her Winter evenings to the recent Book Title Picture Test and at the close of that Test sent in a list of titles which numbered 50 of which we found written 1,000 times!

LIST OF AWARDS.

These will be the 219 awards of the Famous Titles Test and each and every one of them will be paid in cash:

First Award	$1,000
Second Award	750
Third Award	500
Fourth Award	400
Fifth Award	300
Sixth Award	200
Seventh Award	150
Eighth Award	100
Ninth Award	50
100 Awards of $10 each	1,000
110 Awards of $5 each	550
Total	$5,000

You probably will be able to find as many as half the sixty Correct Titles without stirring out of your chair. They will "come" to you. They will "stand out," in the Lists of Titles. Some of them will almost bite at you. Pick them up and be good to them.

LOOK THEM UP.

On other days, the List of Titles will demand serious consideration, earnest reflection, the careful weighing of one title against another. And on other days—just the most important of all—investigation will be necessary. It will be good policy on these latter days to consider carefully the words you see in the List of Titles and, when these words are not familiar to you, look them up and determine their exact and various meanings.

In the paragraph immediately above you have the whole story of the Famous Titles Test; more about it, perhaps, than it is discreet for the Test Editor to tell. Much more than the Test Artist will be glad to have him tell.

For the Test Artist does not desire does not mean, that you shall find and write his 60 titles. The Test will be a failure, in the Artist's opinion, if one among you should achieve a score of 65. Should two or three of you reach the 60-mark, the artist would regard it as a calamity.

HE says the 60 Correct Titles CAN be found, and yet he dares to say that YOU will not find them. The nerve of the man!

One thing you may be sure of. If you spend one dollar, or any other sum, with any of the fakers now operating in POSSIBLE answers, or any of the other fakers who may jump into the game, you will not win so much as a five dollar award in this contest.

The Test Editor will make it His business to study such lists as are put out by any of these operators and in this connection would respectfully call attention to the final paragraph of the Rules of the Famous Titles Test.

While you are about it, please read ALL the rules. Cut them out and preserve them with your Test Drawings and Lists of Titles.

Tomorrow, Drawing No. 10.

TAKE GUDE'S PEPTO-MANGAN

It Is the Safe and Reliable Tonic Used by Physicians for 30 Years

There are "new styles" even in medicines. A new "fad" comes, is popular for a while, and then fades out of public view. A remedy that has stood the test for thirty years must have remarkable merit and cannot be called a "fad." Such is Gude's Pepto-Mangan, originated by Dr. A. Gude over a quarter century ago, which has helped many thousands of people back to good health by improving the blood. Pepto-Mangan is an iron tonic. It contains iron in a special form easily absorbed by the system. It puts color into the lips and cheeks and improves the entire body by improving and enriching the blood. It is sold by druggists in both liquid and tablet form. If you want to be well and strong and look fine and healthy, take Gude's Pepto-Mangan.—Advertisement.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood, in 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Advertisement.

GIRLS! LEMONS WHITEN ROUGH CHAPPED HANDS

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter-pint of harmless and delightful lemon-bleach lotion to soften and whiten red, rough or chapped hands. This home-made lemon lotion is far superior to glycerin and rose-water to smoothen the skin. Famous stars use it to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, because it doesn't irritate.—Advertisement.

Rules of the Title Test

The Boston American Famous Titles Test is a test of skill and judgment open to all residents of the United States and Canada, except those living in any city or town in New England.

Two hundred and nineteen cash awards will be given for the most correct titles. Any one may submit the largest possible number of titles, but no one will be permitted to be paid more than one award in any one contest.

Duplicate awards, each equal to the one duplicated, will be given in case of ties. Employees of the Boston American and their families are absolutely barred from participation in the various contests.

The Test will consist of sixty pictures, each of which will be published in the Boston American and Sunday Boston American for the first picture on Wednesday, March 1, 1922.

Participants will be allowed to submit one set of pictures, but each set must contain only ONE TITLE for each picture. Duplicate titles will not be considered. Titles will be received at 10 Mass. av., Cambridge, Mass., only.

In case there are no complete sets of one, part titles, or titles which are the same perfect in omitting the poorest correct solutions, giving weight to the earliest entries.

In case of ties on the basis of correctness, neatness, legibility and exact arrangement of titles, the earliest entry will be declared the winner. Duplicate awards will be given in cases of ties.

Titles must be written in ink or typewritten. Titles will be printed in the Boston American.

Participants who desire further information may address the Famous Titles Test Editor, No. 10 Mass. av., Cambridge, Mass.

Questions will be answered as far as possible, through the columns of the Boston American. If questions desire personal replies they should enclose stamped and addressed envelopes.

The Boston American reserves the right to make any changes in or additions to the rules of the Test which may be necessary for fairness and properly conducting the Test, and the decision of the Boston American Test Editor on any matter arising which may affect the interpretation of the rules, or the awards, shall be final, and the entry of a participant shall constitute acceptance of all conditions and rules which may be made.

The Public Utilities Bill Is Inadequate

Also Puts Upon the Commissioners Duty of Exercising Discretion as to What Witnesses Parties May Summon

House Bill 1241, reported by the legislative committee, proposes an act extending the authority of the Department of Public Utilities to summon witnesses and take testimony. We understand that the Public Utilities Board has approved this act.

If it is so, we are very sorry, because it seems to us most inadequate in its provisions. All it does is to allow any commissioner of the Department of Public Utilities "to summon witnesses, administer oaths and take testimony." It puts upon the commissioners the duty of exercising discretion concerning what witnesses the parties before it may summon. This we submit is subversive of correct methods of conducting the judicial proceedings before the board.

The commission is either a judicial body or it is not. It is either acting in a judicial capacity in certain proceedings or it is not. It is quite possible to consider the board as a judicial body in one case and both an investigating and judicial body in another. This last case would be where the board initiates the investigation and conducts it on its own accord. Then, of course, it will summon its own witnesses and exercise necessarily its own discretion concerning what witnesses it wants and does not want.

But in those cases which are initiated by other parties and the commission is acting in a judicial capacity and is necessarily more ignorant of the case than the parties who have prepared the case, the burden should not be put upon the commission, any more than it is put upon the courts, to decide what witnesses shall be summoned and what witnesses shall not be summoned. The commission should assume, as the court assumes, that the parties know what they want, what testimony they expect to offer and what witnesses will give that testimony.

Let any lawyer who reads this editorial imagine a situation in which he had to go to court and ask permission to summon witnesses in his case against the objection of the attorney on the other side. How endless the proceedings would be. The court, in order to determine whether a witness should be summoned or not, would have to go into the issues concerning which the party wanting the witness intends to employ the witness's testimony. You would have a trial before the judge as a summoner of witnesses before you had a trial before him as a judge in the case or before the jury.

The experience of a thousand years in the trial of cases has eliminated, if common sense ever permitted, any such complicated, overlapping, repeating practice.

Moreover, there is a much more serious objection to imposing the duty on the commission to decide whether or not it shall summon a particular witness at the request of one of the parties. It takes out of the hands of the parties the conduct of their case. It imposes upon the board the conduct of the trial of the parties' case WHEN IT IS A CASE NOT INITIATED BY THE BOARD, but a case in which the board IS ACTING SOLELY IN A JUDICIAL CAPACITY. It is not fair to the board and is not fair to the parties, and no decision of the board can possibly be satisfactory to parties or to the public under such circumstances.

Get After the Bank Wreckers

Commissioner Allen Takes Right Attitude Towards Managers Responsible for Great Inconvenience and Losses

The Boston American is very much pleased at the attitude which Bank Commissioner Allen discloses towards those who are responsible for the "wrecked" banks in this community. Few things have ever done more harm to the reputation of a city and to its business than the closing of these banks, and few things have done more harm to the psychology of the community itself than the closing of these banks.

Those managers of the banks who were responsible for their wrecking and for the stockholders' total losses and for the losses of the depositors and the grave inconvenience which comes from having their funds tied up, have done harm to the community, which, if it has come within the criminal law, ought to be as severely punished as the law provides.

We hope that Mr. Allen will pursue the responsibility for the wrecking of these banks with his usual pertinacity.

Benefit to Legion Members

Fine Plan Being Worked Out for Credit Union at Every Post to Make Loans on Most Favorable Terms

The American Legion is working on a plan to establish at every post a credit union so that those among their members who are out of work and need a loan can get it on the most favorable terms.

This is a fine idea. It is also practical, and it will confer great benefit upon all the members of the legion, whether they want to borrow money now or do not.

Under the Loan Shark Law, if they borrow a small sum of money, they must pay 36 per cent. interest, and the loan sharks are asking the Legislature this year to increase it to 42 per cent.

Stick to Court Practice

We have called attention to what we consider a defect in the bill empowering the Public Utilities Board to summon witnesses and put them under oath.

There is another defect in the bill. It does not require the testimony to be under oath, but merely says that the board may administer oaths. This is a very unfair discretion to impose upon the board, because if it does not administer the oath to one man and does to another, it is a plain implication that one man needs the fear of the penalties of the law to make him tell the truth, and the other man does not.

The cases before this board are much more important than the average cases in the law courts, and the closer we stick to the practice which has been worked out as the result of the experience of a thousand years the better off we shall be with respect to getting the truth out of men.

Defeat of Unfair Ice Bill

It is gratifying to learn that the Legislature has defeated the so-called ice bill which was so drafted that it would have permitted ice companies, as we understand it, to issue tickets, if they chose, in denominations of ten to twenty cents, and could thus prevent people from buying five-cent ice.

This bill passed the Legislature last year, but Governor Cox, in the interest of the poor, promptly vetoed it, and conferred thus a great benefit on those who are not well-to-do, but who need ice in the Summer.

IF born today you will succeed in so far as you will to succeed.

Your fate is the rare and fortunate one of having the guidance of your own life in your own hands. It is yours to glorify or to degrade, and when your course is ruin, you will realize that you have only yourself to account to.

Naturally you are endowed with habits of unusual variety and promise. You have an extremely magnetic personality. Friends and strangers are drawn to you by unknown attractions and you have little difficulty in eventually having your own way, with both. But this gift you are inclined to misuse to the disadvantages somewhat of persons who love and trust you. You are ambitious and somewhat too dogged in your determination.

You are inventive and interested in all kinds of mechanics and electrical devices if they work, but you have little patience with long, drawn-out experiments.

You have also a sound faculty of organization which your own craftiness in "pursuing the buck" bids fair to develop to the point of genius.

Today brings success to all new ventures involving production, but is less favorable for speculators.

The ensuing year will be a critical year of your development. You will have an affair of the heart during the sign of sagittarius. November 22 to December 21—which will permanently affect your character.

A child born today will be healthy, joyous, and self-willed. Famous persons born today:

Nathan K. Hall, postmaster-general.

Dudley Buck, organist, and composer.

Robert Hoe, inventor and manufacturer.

Everett R. Wheeler, lawyer.

Curiosities of Life's Span

By Garrett P. Serviss

SOME interesting thoughts are suggested by the report of the Census Bureau that while the expectation of life, both among men and women, in most cases has steadily increased, there is no indication of any definite lengthening of the span of life. In other words, while almost all classes of persons are living to an older average, the limiting age of human life does not seem to have increased."

No Longer

This conclusion, which may appear surprising, if not, indeed, self-contradictory, to some readers, is based upon studies of the returns of the last three censuses, viz.: 1890, 1900 and 1910. Most persons have been aware that individuals were living longer, and have probably assumed that what was true of the individual and of classes of individuals was likewise true of the whole race—or at least so much of the whole race as has been brought within the sphere of modern civilized conditions.

The ensuing year will be a critical year of your development. You will have an affair of the heart during the sign of sagittarius. November 22 to December 21—which will permanently affect your character.

But, if the conclusion of the census experts is sound, it appears that man's life is practically no longer, in the limit, than it was before. The grand terminus stands about where it has always stood, and the "three score and ten" of Scriptural biology is made to look like a fiat of nature.

If we assume that future facts will continue to support this conclusion, we may find some ground for congratulation on behalf of our descendants. It might not be well for them if the general span of human life were greatly increased, unless the number of human beings proportionately diminished because the effect even of a simple increase of the "expectation of life" for individuals must, in the end, be the crowding of more persons on a given space, within a given time, and a consequent heavier call upon the resources of the earth to supply nourishment and the means of maintenance.

Mathematical Fact

If we are going to prolong either the average age attained by individuals, or the general span of life, or both—and few would say that we ought not to do so if we can—then we have got to take into account the fact, which will become increasingly evident with the progress of time, that the longer a generation lives, without change of the rate of reproduction, the more rapid the crowding of the earth must be. It is a simple mathematical consequence, from which there is no escape.

ARE YOU MAKING YOUR WIFE LOOK OLD?

Mr. Married Man, if the thought ever comes to you that your wife is rapidly losing her attractiveness, that she is beginning to look a bit old, it would be well for you to blame yourself, for the care lines which should not be in her face.

She has tried to please you, and the worry you have caused her is largely responsible for her fading beauty.

If you think seriously on this subject, you will remember countless instances when you have not assumed the responsibilities around home which should have been yours, and that has put burdens upon her.

You have not done your part in caring for the children.

You have engaged in undertakings which have caused her great anxiety.

Your demeanor at home has been exacting, domineering, complaining and cross.

All these things help to bring premature age marks on your wife's face.

Perhaps you yourself are not as good looking as you think you are.

It is likely that your wife is not far behind when it comes to realizing that you also are losing your good looks.

Why not be a real pal, and in helping to lift the burdens for your wife help the good looks of you both?

New Thornless Blackberry

By Universal Service.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., March 10.—Undoubtedly one of the most interesting announcements made by Luther Burbank in recent years, was that of the perfecting of a thornless blackberry—an absolutely thornless one at that.

Here is how Mr. Burbank describes his thornless blackberries in the announcement he has just made:

"These thornless blackberries produce here, when well established, enormous quantities of large, firm, extra sweet fruit The vines are free from all vices growers and berry pickers have wished for and waited for during the past 100 years. The production of the new thornless berries has been very expensive in time, thought and labor, and I take peculiar pleasure in offering them to growers.

"No one who has not worked among them can imagine the sense of perfect security from new wounds which all other blackberries are prepared to inflict. I am still at work improving them, but am happy to offer two varieties which here produce great quantities of large, sweet, luscious fruit.

"Two years later in the Fall then most berries and are unlike the common blackberry, which produces a multitude of unnecessary suckers. Both of these varieties are as free from suckers as a silken thread, pushing them, owing also to their firmness and cane keeping qualities, alongside the most desirable berries for home use or for market.

"These thornless blackberries will probably be hardy in an Eastern climate, but this will be proven by tests."

Burbank admonishes in the matter of pruning that the berries should be pruned like a grapevine leaving two or three branches only to get the most fruit.

LEARNING TO CHECK LOOSE TALK

By Winifred Black

Copyright, 1922, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

"WHO was it, did you say?" asked the Woman in Gray.

"I didn't say," answered the Woman in Brown. And then somebody coughed and we all changed the subject.

I wondered about her — at first. Rather a strange answer to give to such a simple question, wasn't it?

Now days, I don't wonder.

I'm really acquainted with the Woman in Gray, you see.

And that makes all the difference.

The Woman in Gray is pretty and always well-dressed, and she is kind-hearted. She'll go a long way to do a friend a favor. I've even known her to take up the cudgels for a woman whose good name was being attacked, and that takes real courage sometimes.

She is Well-Dressed

She's intelligent, too—rather unusually so. She knows about books and theatres and movies and clothes, and she even reads the editorial page of her favorite newspaper. But somehow, there's a sharp edge to her mind. Such a sharp edge that she seems always to be cutting something with it—something for herself, some way.

"I heard such a new idea today," says a woman at a luncheon.

"Whose was it?" says the Woman in Gray—and if you know her you know that she'll never rest till she meets the person with the new idea and gets it out of him by hook or by crook—to use, herself.

"Someone said a bright thing the other day," announces the Lady in Brown.

"Who was it?" says the Woman in Gray. "Tell us what it is." And while she's listening you can see her making mental notes of the bright thing, so that she can remember it and tell it again herself.

She's such a greedy person—the Woman in Gray. She never wants to let one single syllable of a single word escape.

She must hear and know and visualize and comprehend every single thing that happens or is said where within the radius of her intelligence.

No pleasant, blurring thoughts for her—no happen-so friendships, no maybe-and-maybe-not acquaintances.

The one is good to know because she's clever and people like her at dinners. The other is a valuable asset on the visiting list —she dresses well and always makes a pretty picture of her corner of the living room. That one is rich, the other is popular, the next is well-connected—

Make No Mistake

Oh, make no mistake—if the Woman in Gray comes to see you she isn't coming because she saw a bunch of violets in the window and they made her think of you, or because she read a book the other day she's wants to tell you about! She's after something—after something definite and practical. Perhaps it's nothing but an idea for a new hat or a thought for a paper she's going to read somewhere, or a little bowing acquaintance with the well-known aunt who happens to be visiting you.

She gets on my nerves—the Woman in Gray. I really shall have to confess it. And when I am where she is I never open my mouth without thinking what I'm going to say, and I get as stingy with names and ideas as if they were so much gold.

No, I don't mind giving these things away—but I hate to have them snatched from me by main force.

Do you know anyone like the Woman in Gray?

And if you do, do you like her really?

To the Editor

Harmony and Unionism

Editor Boston American:

Instead of wranglings between labor and capital, there ought to be a transformation of unionism into harmonism, a change of mere "mechanics" into scientific methods in all lines.

As soon as mechanical workers understand the difference between mechanical labor and scientific methods, many complainants will be satisfied to continue to improve the quality of their work until they advance into the ranks of scientists or artists.

Harmonious co-operation of the various types of mankind is as important as the harmony of sounds. Because "the harmony of thoughts and things, as well as that of sounds from discord springs," let us strive to harmonize labor and capital, science and mechanics. If everybody will help, satisfactory results are sure to follow.

GEORGE A. SCHMIDT.

THE MARGIN OF SURPLUS OVER THE EXPENSE

By Dr. Charles Fleischer

AMERICA has no present intention of becoming other-worldly.

Despite a sudden lurch towards sudden goodness, by means of the Eighteenth Amendment, our national spiritual airpsane is not out for an altitude record which would take us off the earth and land us permanently in heaven.

We mean to retain our residence on this planet. Even our official achievement of prohibition—a notable and desirable step in the right direction—we regard mainly as a practical means of making this American portion of the earth a more decent place in which to live.

With all the cynical comment upon this practical achievement—such as that it gives the rich an advantage (to call it such) over the poor, that it encourages law-breaking and the increased manufacture and consumption of deadly drinks—there is no doubt that great gain has already come, and incalculably more is to come to the average American from this effort at legislating our nation into goodness.

It needed the drastic influence of enforcing sanctment and of frightful cosmic experience to shake our vast masses into sense and sensibility.

Literally and figuratively, America is now awake and sober.

Face Facts

We shall not readily revert to the exuberance of spirituous indulgence nor to the intoxication of mutual murder in order to pacify an undemocratic world.

After our spree, we are inclined to face facts—and proceed.

If, then, we are fairly sobered and we have no intention of soaring heavenward, we may as well address ourselves to the tremendous task of developing an Industrial Democracy.

Quite as futile as the resort to war has once more been proven as a means of resolving the rivalries of nations, just so ridiculous is the spirit of mutual hostility between the factors in industry.

Quite as important as the ideal of peace among the nations is the self-evident need for peace and orderly progress within the nations.

Democracy, demanding mutual respect among the nations, and guaranteeing that respect with universal co-operation, offers the dependable spiritual solvent to the industrial elements also.

To the students of social evolution, who is a believer in democracy, it is pathetic to see now capital and now labor altering industrial strife, because of a momentary sense of superior strength. The blustering and the sodden spirit of arrogant Capital is as irritating as the "We're-got-the-men-and-we've-got-the-money-too" attitude of defiant England; and the bludgeoning menace of sullen Labor is as darkly disturbing as used to be the persistent saber-rattling of militant Prussia.

The mutual challenge to war, and the joining in conflict of capital and labor may give one or the other a temporary advantage. But the victor does not win, and the seeming victim merely awaits the opportunity for vengeance with further warring.

Only the justice of democracy can bring permanent peace to industry.

This needs to be said to both elements; and particularly, just now, to capital, which for the time happens to have the upper hand, short time ago, it was labor's hand which held the whip.

It is not sufficient to say that the rights of the public, being obviously paramount, are superior to those of either capital or labor.

True, true! But there has been a seismic upheaval, and the face of the social landscape will never again return to what used to be "normalcy." No, not even here in America!

Not the Amount

It is not merely a question of the amount of the wage. To make possible complete resumption of industrial activity and the furtherance of commercial prosperity, there will have to be universal employment and maximum production and a wage-scale far lower than the impossible level of the war period.

The important element, however, which is of much more movement towards industrial democracy, is such a general wage as will give the well-paid worker who is efficient and thrifty, a safe margin of surplus over expenses.

More income than outgo means negatively a lessening of the tension of life, because of the happy loss of the haunting terror of want.

Positively, that will also mean more actual joy in living, a greater co-operation towards high standard results in industry and a promise of the further humanization and moralization of America's material life.

We ought to face gladly the opportunity of assuring to all wage-workers, hand-workers and brain-workers, that gain towards higher standards of living which can be guaranteed only by an increasing margin between income and weekly cost.

Every one is entitled to earning a balance on the right side of the ledge!
